TOKIO, May 16.—Shocked by a brief reign of militaristic terrorism which culminated in the brutal assassination of aged Premier Inukai, Japan today struggled to restore a semblance of political order by organizing a new government in which concessions to the assassins may be made.

Fears that the reign of terror might precipitate a revolution aimed as establishment of military absolutism in Japan diminished today as no indications developed of further acts of violence.

Meanwhile heavy guards were placed about the American and British embassies today as a precaution against the outbreak of anti-foreign sentiment.

The 77-year-old Premier was fatally shot by a group of young army and navy officers, thought to have possible Fascist connections, whose associates simultaneously were bombing public buildings and the home of high government officials throughout the city.

18 SURRENDER

A few hours after the slaying 18 of the group, 13 army and five naval officers, gave themselves up to police.

They were members of a na-

KLINE WON'T QUIT, SAYS COUNSEL

Will 'Sit Tight' as Mayor, Coll Declares; Lawyers and Kerr Confer With Park

Mayor Charles H. Kline is not going to resign his office because of his conviction in his malfeasance trial at Butler, Attorney Edward G. Coll, one of his counsel, revealed today. Coll said:

"The Mayor certainly is not going to resign. He's going to 'sit tight,' and you can print that in big type."

Although the Mayor's removal from office is automatic upon conviction, it cannot become effective unless an adverse rule is given on his attorney's efforts to have the verdict quashed or to obtain a new trial.

CALL ON MAYOR

Coll's statement was made in the ante-room of the Mayor's office where he and Charles B. Prichard, another of the defense counsel at Butler, were waiting for a conference with their client.

A mysterious visit of Coll, Prichard and City Controller James P. Kerr to the District Attorney's office earlier in the day stirred new interest into the Mayor's fight against the verdict.

While the Mayor was in his office this morning, for the first time since his trial started two weeks ago, Prichard, Coll and Kerr suddenly appeared in the anteroom of District Attorney Andrew T. Park's office. They were ushered in at once and First Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langfitt was summoned.

PARK INDIFFERENT

At the end of the conference Park said:

"It had nothing to do with my office. They'll have to work it out themselves."

Prichard said:

"I don't think it is up to me to make a statement."

Kerr said:

"Here's my attorney (pointing to Prichard). What does he say?"

Coll said:

"I can't say anything, but it will all come out in a couple of days."

SEPARATE PLEAS

Separate arguments probably will be made to Judge Thomas D. Finletter to set aside the verdict or grant new trials to Mayor Kline and Bertram L. Succop, discharged city supplies director, it was reported today.

Prichard, Coll or former Judge James M. Galbreath, three of the Mayor's lawyers, will make the argument for him. Col. E. L. Kearns will argue for Succop some time next month, probably in Butler.

Both defendants were convicted of misdemeanor Saturday in Butler, the Mayor on one count, Col. Succop on 29.

ENGELSBERG FREE, 'PAUPER'

Joseph Engelsberg, known as a wealthy Hill politician when he entered the county jail six months ago, completed his sentence today and became a "legal pauper."

Engelsberg, formerly Mayor Charles H. Kline's leader in the Third Ward, left the shadow of the jail and walked through the bright spring sunshine to a United States Commissioner's office where he took the "pauper's oath," swearing he was unable to pay the $2,500 that was imposed on him with the jail term by Federal Court for a liquor law violation.

He testified he had no assets, cash or otherwise, in his name or in his wife's in Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, New York or other places, and that he had one safe deposit box in which there is nothing of value. He also swore that he had not consigned funds or property to other persons since he entered the jail.

Deputy United States Marshal D. A. Goldman took Engelsberg from the jail to breakfast and then to the Commissioners' office. Leaving there, the released prisoner said:

"I'm going to work and forget all about this—as if it never happened."

Then, avoiding photographers, he left for his home.

Cattleman-Peer Dies in Auto Crash

LONDON, May 16.—(INS)—The Earl of Egmont, former Canadian cattle raiser who left his ranch in Calgary, Alberta, to take his seat in the House of Lords, died in a hospital at Southampton today from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Lord Egmont came to England from Calgary questioning the wisdom of abandoning quiet and unadventurous farm life for the purple of the peerage. His accession to the title was marked by difficulties as other descendants from the tenth earl attempted to disprove his claim to the earldom.

Rynearson, School Leader, Critically Ill

Dr. Edward Rynearson, 65, director of vocational guidance of the Pittsburgh public schools, was reported critically ill in Mercy Hospital today. He was stricken in his office Friday, May 6.

Dr. Rynearson, who has been identified with the school system 38 years, recently returned from Japan, where he spent several months making a survey of work in the Christian schools. He formerly was principal of Fifth Avenue High School, and lives at 5806 Howe street.

Pittsburgher Dies On Russ Mill Job

MOSCOW, May 16.—(INS)—The death of Gilbert H. Lee, Pittsburgh, of double pneumonia at Kramatorsky, in the Ukraine, on May 11, was reported here today.

Lee formerly was chief engineer of the Columbia Steel Company, Butler. He went to Russia for the Soviet government as a specialist in flat rolled steel, according to Pittsburgh steel men.

Akron Anchored, Plans Not Decided

SUNNYVALE, Cal., May 16.—(AP)—The Akron, Navy dirigible swung at her mooring mast here with the next stages of her itinerary in doubt. Lieut. Commander C. E. Rosendahl, the skipper, took a plane to San Pedro yesterday and the time of his return was not announced.

Kentucky Strike Probers Head Home

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 16.—(AP)—Members of the American Civil Liberties Union, headed by Arthur Garfield Hays and Dudley Field Malone, were en route home today after a futile attempt to enter the Southeastern Kentucky coal fields. All expressed the opinion their trip had proved that "civil liberties do not exist in the Southeastern Kentucky coal region."

Members of the party coming to Knoxville addressed a group of 100 men and women here. They expressed no bitterness toward Kentuckians for their treatment. A Knoxville branch of the American Civil Liberties Union was organized.

THE PROBLEM

THE Bureau of Business Research at the University of Pittsburgh estimates the number of unemployed in Allegheny County in March at 190,000. The Philadelphia Federal Reserve Bank reports factory unemployment in Pennsylvania increased 4 per cent from March to April.

690 Rescued at Sea As New French Liner Burns in Gulf of Aden

Rescuers' Messages Indicate All Survived

ABOARD R. M. S. MAHSUD, Gulf of Aden, May 16.—(INS)—A total of 690 persons from the abandoned French vessel Georges Philippar have been rescued.

The Mahsud is proceeding to Aden with 149 survivors. Other rescue ships picked up 541 passengers and members of the crew.

The captain of the liner which caught fire off the coast of Somaliland and had to be abandoned, was also rescued.

The wireless from the Mahsud, the first dispatch received from the scene of the disaster, indicated there may have been virtually no loss of life. Messages from Paris placed the total complement of persons aboard the ill-fated liner at approximately 600.

BOMBAY, May 16.—(INS)—Only small loss of life is now expected in the burning and sinking of the French vessel Georges Philippar in the Gulf of Aden, according to late reports received here tonight.

The only definite casualty report lists three persons badly burned. The Japanese rescue ship Hanoke Maru wirelessed it had passed an empty lifeboat near Aden, leading to reports of a possible heavy death toll.

The liners Contractor, Mahsud, Sovetskaia Neft and other rescue ships are bringing survivors to Aden.

Pope to Urge Prayer To End World Crisis

VATICAN CITY, May 16.—(AP)—Pope Pius is preparing an encyclical dealing with various aspects of the world crisis, it was learned today. The encyclical will urge the whole world to unite in prayer for divine assistance.

OWEN D. YOUNG WON'T RUN

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., May 16.—(AP)—Owen D. Young has definitely and finally declared that he could not accept the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

His statement was contained today in a letter to John Crowley, publisher of the Little Falls Times, an old friend of the industrialist whose paper is the home town paper of Van Hornesville, Mr. Young's boyhood home.

On April 28 Mr. Crowley in his newspaper made a plea for the nomination of Mr. Young by the Democratic National Convention.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—The flat declaration by Owen D. Young that he could not accept the Democratic nomination for President removes one of the principal larkhorse candidates mentioned.

The effect of his withdrawal will have to await future activities on the part of the group opposed to Franklin D. Roosevelt. This group was known to favor Young, among others, and party leaders now will await with interest the benefactor of Young's support.

Mrs. Mellon Goes To Germany for Visit

SOUTHAMPTON, England, May 16.—(INS)—Unusual precautions were taken today to prevent reporters and cameramen from boarding the liner Milwaukee, on which Mrs. McMullen Mellon, divorced wife of Andrew W. Mellon, American Ambassador to Britain, was a passenger.

Mrs. Mellon did not disembark, proceeding to Hamburg for a visit in Germany before returning to England to spend the summer at her country estate.

BLAST WRECKS BUILDING

A three-story frame building at 426 Sixth avenue, Braddock, was wrecked by a terrific explosion early today. The entrance of a store across the street was blown in and windows in many surrounding buildings shattered.

Several families in two brick buildings adjoining the razed structure were routed from their homes.

Fire followed the explosion. Damage was estimated at $2,400.

Part of the destroyed building was used as a plumbing shop by William Costello. The two upper floors until recently had been occupied by apartments. For several weeks they have been vacant.

Rumors that the blast might have been caused by a bomb were scouted by an unidentified neighbor who said she smelled gas a short time before the explosion.

Japan Outwardly Calm, U. S. Informed

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Edwin L. Neville, American Charge d'Affaires at Tokio, sent the State Department a cablegram today saying the situation in Japan was outwardly calm.

SUSPECT IN KIDNAPING REPORTED IDENTIFIED IN ROGUES' GALLERY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 16.—First identification of the suspected Lindbergh baby kidnap-murderers was reported today. It intensified the vast hunt in the air, on sea and on land on a hundred fronts of the nation and gave the pursuers their first purposeful direction.

John Hughes Curtis, leader of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's trio of Norfolk (Va.) intermediaries, was said to have picked out at least one and possibly several rogues' gallery photographs at Newark police headquarters early today as those of men with whom he made contact in his mysterious ransom negotiations.

Official police confirmation was lacking, and it could not immediately be established whether those identified by Curtis belonged to the same group minutely described by name and appearance by Dr. John F. Condon, Bronx educator, who paid a $50,000 hoax ransom to the leader of one gang.

FLIGHT TO EUROPE HINTED

Meanwhile, the conviction grew that the kidnaper-slayers may have fled to Europe.

The theory was strongly entertained that the gang—five men and a woman, according to best information—either booked passage on some liner or used their own vessel, the craft the authorities have been trying to contact, to reach foreign shores.

Officially, the police had no hopeful news to reveal. Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopff, head of the New Jersey state police, in his bulletin issued this morning announced that he had asked the Treasurer of the United States to urge "renewed vigilance" in watching for the currency contained in the ransom money paid by Col. Lindbergh through John F. ("Jafsie") Condon, the 72-year-old intermediary of New York City.

A report that Betty Gow, nurse at the Lindbergh home, had committed suicide was vehemently denied by Col. Schwarzkopf. His official statement said:

"There is absolutely no truth in the report."

HUNT SCANDINAVIAN

The report apparently originated last Friday when Miss Gow was led sobbing from the morgue after viewing the pitiful remains of the baby she once nursed. Later she required medical attention and reports of her death were current in Hopewell and Trenton on Saturday and Sunday.

Schwarzkopf's bulletin today epitomizing police activities contained no information that would give rise to the hope that the authorities are closing in on the trail of the kidnaper-slayers. His statement said:

"Dr. Condon, in his statement, says he only met one member of the gang. This member is presumed to have told him that there were four other men and a woman. Dr. Condon has not given us the names or description of the men beyond the one he contacted. He says the man he contacted is a Scandinavian."

At one time in his ransom overtures the aged university lecturer, famous now as the "Jafsie" in the negotiations, was taken aboard a boat on which he believed the kidnaped infant to be.

He stood on deck in the center of a ring of five men, each of whom leveled a pistol at his head, Condon told police.

Condon said he was taken to the

NURSE SUICIDE RUMOR FALSE

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 16.—(AP)—Betty Gow, the nurse of the murdered Lindbergh baby, was at the Lindbergh home and in good health today, despite persistent rumors that she had committed suicide.

The rumor, apparently based on a statement made over some undetermined radio station, began to circulate yesterday, and had spread across the country today.

A telephone call to the Lindbergh home brought the information that Miss Gow was in good health and was "amused" at the reports of her suicide.

Other rumors just as fantastic were in general circulation. One dealt with a supposed new figure in the case. Investigation definitely established that there was no such person.

Sick Dogs Bark Loudest? Hospital Foes Say Yes

Whether sick dogs bark louder than healthy dogs was one of the questions presented to the Zoning Board at its hearing today on the objection to the building of a cat and dog hospital at 5432 Center avenue, filed by the First Evangelical Church, Center avenue and South Graham street.

A permit to remodel the building for Dr. Samuel Glenn was issued by the Bureau of Building Inspection. The church and other property owners in the vicinity protested on the grounds that the hospital would be a nuisance.

Dr. R. H. M. Mackenzie, testifying for the protestants, said a dog locked up spreads more disease than a dog running loose.

Charles S. Smith, representing the church board of trustees, said he knew the proposed hospital would entail noises and odors because:

"I've had experience with dogs and cats. I know that dogs bark, and sick dogs will moan and bark more than well dogs."

Chairman W. M. Jacoby, of the Zoning Board, agreed:

"Noises and odors are self-evident. All you have to do is to go into one of these places."

The hearing was postponed until next Monday to prepare more testimony relative to noises associated with dog and cat hospitals.

IOWA SENATOR ASKS WARTIME LEVY BASIS

Democrat Opposes Increase As Certain to Retard Turn in Business Tide

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Senators Borah and Harrison, Republican and Democrat, clashed today in the Senate over efforts to mask the income tax rise in the bulk of the huge revenue bill by imposition of the war time rates.

Borah called for the high war taxes to meet the cost of federal relief projects as well as to balance the budget, he stated.

"This is war!

In his first words the tall, lanky Senator, ranking majority member of the finance committee, opposed the war tax rates and asked for a return to the compromise tax rates which made income taxes the highest ever since the war, he stated.

"These are peace times when there is no prosperity in the country.

SEES BUSINESS RETARDED

"I can't believe that for us to say we are going to use the strong arm of the government to take 77 cents of every dollar you make that it is going to encourage the revival of business and start the wheels of industry turning again.

"If we could pass this bill as written, it would do more to restore confidence than anything else now before the Senate.

"We can go ahead and adopt the Couzens amendment and other amendments, but we feel we have done a pretty good job in the committee.

Under the bill as amended the tax rate goes as high as 54 per cent on large incomes, in addition to which state income taxes as high as 15 per cent must be paid, he said.

"Wealth gets little in this bill. You, who want to smite the rich, remember there are things in this bill that hit them as they were never hit before."

Among these, he said, were mentioned the increase estate tax and the lower exemptions under it.

BORAH OPENS DEBATE

Borah opened the third day of debate on the Couzens amendment and warned that the demands on the government in the next few months would be in excess of anything yet proposed. He pointed to the renewed drive for federal unemployment relief. He shouted:

"We can not longer expect local communities to deal with a national situation which must be handled as a national problem.

"States and cities are under a heavy burden. Loans would be scarcely sufficient and would pass a load beyond the power of the government to control."

Furthermore, in some cities where suffering is intense, Borah said:

"I'd be unwilling to vote a dollar to be distributed under the class of officials they have."

He did not name any.

Just before Borah's speech, Senator Barbour, Republican of New Jersey, had demanded legalization and taxation of beer, predicting confidence would return overnight as a result. The country wants not only a balanced budget, he said, but also federal co-operation with the states for unemployment relief.

Movie Tax Fought As Blow to Poor

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—A plea against the proposed admission tax on motion picture theaters charging 10 cents or more was made in a statement today by Senator Shortridge, Republican of California, on the ground that the burden would fall chiefly on the very poor.

This tax is called for in the revenue bill now under consideration by the Senate. Shortridge said the tax would close at least 5,000 more of the smaller theaters and would "cause justifiable ill-will against our government by depriving poor and unemployed persons of needed relaxation."

Flinn Spent $5,124 In Vote Campaign

HARRISBURG, May 16.—(AP)—Ralph E. Flinn, Allegheny County, today reported to the State Elections Bureau that he received $925 and spent $5,124 in his unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for Auditor General. Flinn was the Pinchot candidate.

Of his $5,124 expenditures, $4,000 was contributed to the Independent Republican Campaign Committee and the remainder was spent for printing, advertising, postage and similar expenses.

Nun Here First Woman Union Army Volunteer

A Pittsburgh nun, Mother Catherine Wynne, was the first woman to volunteer for military service in the Union Army during the Civil War, although this honor has long been given to Miss Carrie Cutter, Milford, N. H., according to Dr. Ellen Ryan Jolly, Pawtucket, R. I., a visitor in Pittsburgh.

Dr. Jolly, who was instrumental in having the monument "Nuns of the Battlefields" erected in Washington, told local women that investigation has revealed that Mother Catherine Wynne was superior of the Sisters of Mercy motherhouse in Baltimore who were serving as nurses at an infirmary conducted in I street, Washington, when war was declared in April, 1861.

Dr. Jolly, who spoke at the Pittsburgh Council of Catholic Women, said that another nun, Sister Mary Lucy Dosh, of the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, Kentucky, was the first woman to die in the service of the Union Army. Dr. Jolly, a guest of Mrs. Mary I. Horan, president of the council, said that recently a monument was erected in Milford to the memory of Miss Cutter, but the honor should go to Mother Catherine Wynne.

STATES TO PICK 154 DELEGATES

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The Democratic presidential race swings into the homestretch this week with 10 states selecting delegates to the national convention in primaries and conventions.

Some 154 delegates are at stake and of this number the supporters of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt claim more than 100. If their claims are borne out, the New York Governor will close the week with upward of 500 votes pledged, instructed or favorable to his candidacy.

The states which select delegates during the week are: New Jersey 32, Connecticut 16, Kansas 20, New Mexico 6, Montana 8, South Carolina 18, Vermont 8, Tennessee 24, Oregon 10, Nevada 6. The District of Columbia also will select six delegates.

The Roosevelt forces claim all but New Jersey and Connecticut. The Jersey delegates will be controlled by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, who is one of the leaders of the Stop Roosevelt movement. They are expected to support either Alfred E. Smith or Owen D. Young. The Connecticut delegates probably will be for Smith, although they may cast a complimentary vote for Gov. Cross.

Cook, Butler Held For $30,000 Theft

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—Elizabeth Hopkins, for 11 years a cook in the home of E. Francis Hyde, retired banker, is being held in $5,000 bail today on a charge of grand larceny.

With Andrew Nygard, Mr. Hyde's former butler, she is charged with robbing the 90-year-old banker of $30,000 worth of furniture, antiques and jewelry in the past six years. Both were dismissed April 6, police said, for intoxication.

159 Girls Escape Blaze at College

LAKEWOOD, N. J., May 16.—(AP)—Fire damaged the center and east wing of the Administration Building of Georgian Court College, a Catholic girls' school on the old George Gould estate yesterday.

The 159 girls attending the school, 20 of whom lived in dormitories in the wing, destroyed saved much of their clothing. Firemen estimated the damage at $125,000.

NEELY PROBE DELAYED

Investigation of charges that Howard Neely, Fourth Ward Republican chairman, bought tax receipts in wholesale lots prior to registration for the September primary will be delayed until the June grand jury convenes, District Attorney Andrew T. Park said today.

The attack of the trial of Mayor Charles H. Kline on Park and Assistant District Attorney Gerlet F. P. Langfitt was given as the reason, Park said.

"We're too worn out even to think about the Neely case now."

Before the Kline trial, Park had said Neely's case would be taken to the grand jury as soon as he returned from Butler.

Rich Woman Recluse Killed and Robbed

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 16.—(INS)—Mrs. Andie Kerman, 63, eccentric and wealthy recluse of Harbor City, was found murdered today in her home, her skull fractured and her empty purse stuffed in her mouth.

COURT GUARDED FROM REDS

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Extra policemen watched the doors of the Supreme Court today after reports that Communists planned a demonstration, but the justices took their places with nothing to interrupt the calmness of judicial atmosphere.

In addition to the policeman assigned to the court to preserve order, two others in uniform watched closely as the usual line formed at the doors to await admittance to the court. There was, however, no one among the spectators who was questioned.

In the clerk's office, it was said this was the first time that extra officers had been detailed to the court to forestall a reported Communist demonstration.

While it has not yet formally reached the court, many letters have been received from Communists in different countries urging the court to intervene in the Scottsboro, Alabama, case. In this case seven Negroes were condemned to death for attacking two white girls.

One Killed at Cards, Another Wounded

ASHLAND, Pa., May 16.—(INS)—An all-night card game ended in murder today when one of the participants, infuriated over heavy losses, opened fire, killed one man outright, and perhaps fatally wounded another.

Shot to death was Michael Wask, 41, of Mahanoy City. Albert Conaciski, also known as Al Stemler, of Tamaqua, was taken to a hospital in a precarious condition.

LEADER OF DRYS FOR MAJORITY RULE ON LAW

International News Service.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16.—Prohibition only so long as the majority of the people want it, is the ideal of the Rev. Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, he declared today at the general conference of the church.

The militant dry leader asserted he would not oppose a referendum on the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, for which a number of delegates to the conference have started a movement, he said.

"I believe in one thing in this world more than I believe in prohibition, that is the right of the people to rule their own country.

"I am not going to fight the referendum. That is how we got prohibition, local option, then state and then national. The wets should ask it by constitutional means, however, and not try to short-circuit the constitution."

The conference program calls for a mass meeting on prohibition tonight, at which Bishop Ernest G. Richardson, of Philadelphia, national president of the Anti-Saloon League; Commander John B. Pennington, prohibition administrator of this district; Bishop Edwin Hughes, of Chicago; Mrs. George H. Strawbridge, of Philadelphia, and Dr. Wilson will speak.

Deadlock in Conference Balloting Aids Dr. Day

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 16 (AP)—An unexpected deadlock between Dr. Lewis O. Hartman, of Boston, and Dr. Joseph M. M. Gray, of Detroit, materialized today in the third ballot cast by the Methodist general conference for the election of two new bishops.

The deadlock sent to the fore as the two episcopal possibilities the names of J. Ralph Magee, of Seattle, and Albert E. Day, of Pittsburgh.

Magee developing sudden strength, went into the lead with 323 votes. Following him were Hartman, with 298, and Gray, with 273. Dr. Day, with 235 votes, was fourth on the list. A total of 546 votes is necessary to elect.

The names of Magee and Day replaced those of Hartman and Gray in conference discussion of the two men in the best position for election. Other leaders in the third ballot included W. F. Hammaker, Youngstown, O., 26, and Ralph S. Urmy, Pittsburgh, 21.

WALKER CITES BEER DEMAND

NEW YORK, May 16.—(INS)—The voice of New York is vigorously raised in a demand for the legalization of beer, as emphatically evidenced by the gigantic proportions of Saturday's "beer-for-taxation" parade, Mayor James J. Walker declared today. He said:

"The fact that for every person parading there were 10 or 12 spectators made it the most emphatic expression of the will of the people that New York has ever seen.

"Police estimated 10,000 persons passed a fixed point every hour. The parade lasted 11 hours, so more than 100,000 participated. More than 2,000,000 witnessed it."

Mayor Walker said in many communities of the nation the mayors and other officials lacked the courage to get behind the movement, otherwise similar demonstrations would have been held in all of them.

BERT M. DOTY MISS MATHILDA GANLEY

Mr. Doty, 1500 Federal street, and Miss Ganley, 410 Lorenz avenue, pictured today as they reported for duty at the city supplies department, from which they were dismissed five months ago. They were reinstated by the civil service commission, backed by a court ruling, will receive all back pay. But there still was no work given them. This is a Sun-Telegraph picture.

2 REINSTATED, FIND NO JOBS

Reinstated by the Civil Service Commission and backed by a court ruling, two discharged employes of the City Supplies Department reported for duty today—but found no jobs awaiting them.

They are Bert M. Doty, former contract clerk, and Miss Margaret M. Ganley, commodity clerk, dismissed nearly five months ago.

Director of Supplies W. R. Dunlap said:

"Their jobs were eliminated by Council. In my opinion, neither is qualified. Anyhow, I can't do anything until the Civil Service Commission certifies their reinstatement."

Dunlap revealed that there are four clerkships being filled temporarily because the commission refused to make permanent appointments pending outcome of the litigation brought by Doty and Miss Ganley.

Judge Frank P. Patterson Saturday in an opinion upheld the commission in ordering the two put back on the payroll despite Council's action. Doty has been reporting daily since his discharge.

12 World Tourists To Hike Across U. S.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(INS)—Marvels of New York were unfolded today for 10 German youths making a round-the-world tour. They arrived here by steamer Sunday with all the equipment for a 12-months tour packed on their backs.

The youths will start hiking for San Francisco in a few days.

Weather Conditions.

Pressure is relatively high over the South Atlantic coast and the plains states, while the pressure is diminishing the weather over the central valleys and the far North. In the central valleys there is a rather distinctive area of the Great Lakes and another center in the vicinity of Galveston. The low pressure is causing cloudy and showery weather throughout the central valleys and as far east as West Virginia and Western New York. The weather is fair in the Southern Texas where moderately heavy rains occurred. The plains states high is attended by clear skies and cool weather for the season. West of Illinois temperatures are below, in degrees and over North Dakota stated and the Rocky Mountain states below 40 degrees. Over Northern and Western North Dakota, Eastern Montana and Wyoming freezing temperatures occurred this morning.

River Conditions.

The rivers are falling. Stage at Franklin is 4.5 feet. Lock No. 2 (Monongahela), 15.2; Pittsburgh, 15.1; Dam No. 4, 12.1; Dam No. 6, 13.9; Dam No. 10, 15.5; Dam No. 12, 16.9. The rivers will continue to fall.

2 MEN ACCUSED OF FRAUD BY OSTEOPATH

Research Laboratory Head Here to Face Charge; Aide Jailed in Default of Bail

E. B. Somers, 21, secretary to Walter Priestley, head of an "industrial research laboratory" with palatial offices in the Grant Building, was arrested last night on a charge of fraudulent conversion sworn to by Dr. Frank L. Gochring, well-known osteopath. Somers was committed to jail in default of $6,500 bail by Justice of the Peace Milton B. Church of Brownsville road.

A similar charge was placed against Priestley. A doctor's certificate prevented Priestley from being committed to jail with Somers. Church sent physicians to Priestley's home near Mt. Lebanon for further information on his condition.

Although no details concerning Priestley's business were available from police sources, he is said to have attracted the interest of the Pennsylvania Securities Commission.

Working with a licensed physician, he is alleged to have dealt with clients as a doctor of philosophy and also as a psycho-analyst.

His activities are said to have included operation of a cleaning and dyeing establishment at Castle Shannon, negotiating sales at large discounts for new automobiles which it is asserted were not delivered to the purchaser, and operation of the Charles Waulter Research Laboratory in the Grant Building offices, in which also is the agency for a patented electric light globe which he has been marketing.

ALASKAN PEAK CLIMB FATAL

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP)—Word reached here today that an attempt to climb Mt. McKinley in Alaska by Allen Carpe has failed and one of his party is dead and "there are clear indications Carpe himself is lost."

Harry J. Leik, superintendent of Mt. McKinley National Park reported to Horace Albright, director of national parks, that he had found the body of a man named Theodore Koven, one of Carpe's party, as he was returning from a successful ascent of both peaks of Mt. McKinley. This is the first time both peaks of the mountain have been climbed.

The message to Albright said:

"Our trip successful; climbed both peaks. On way down Muldrow Glacier found body of Koven, companion of Carpe, and clear indication Carpe dead in crevice.

"Unable to bring out body of Koven. Attempted same and nearly lost Ranger Pearson. Rest of Carpe party, Beckwith and all are O. K., abandoning expedition."

LIONS CONVENE IN WILKINSBURG

Several hundred delegates from all parts of Pennsylvania are attending the tenth annual convention, District 14, Lions International, which opened today in the Penn-Lin-An Hotel, Wilkinsburg. Dr. A. S. Haines, of Wilkinsburg, convention chairman, presided.

At a noon luncheon preceding the opening of the convention Dr. John W. Oliver, University of Pittsburgh, gave an address on "Western Pennsylvania—The Historical Capital of America."

Reports on welfare and community undertakings by the various clubs were made. Claire M. Stewart, of Clarion, is district governor. The program concludes tomorrow night with a banquet in the gymnasium of the Wilkinsburg High School.

Machine Guns Set To Foil Jail Break

STATE PENITENTIARY, FLORENCE, Ariz., May 16.—(AP)—Arizona's prison, from which six escapes have been made during the last year, continued under guard today to prevent a possible wholesale delivery of prisoners.

Machine guns were mounted atop the 22-foot walls by Warden William Delbridge, who said he had uncovered a plot of former inmates to liberate the prisoners in the incorrigible section. As part of the plot, Delbridge said, he was to be kidnaped and used as a shield in the assault on the prison gates.

Follies Girl Freed, Prisoners Mourn

AUBURN, N. Y., May 16.—(INS)—Auburn Prison was mourning the loss of its most beautiful and talented woman prisoner, Natalie Chadwick, former Follies girl, whose two-year sentence for grand larceny was completed today.

The former show girl was sentenced after she had sold all the furnishings of an Atlantic City home which had been loaned to her by another Follies girl, Polly Lux. Miss Chadwick sold the furniture, valued at $10,000, for $800.

CAPT. DOLLAR, 'GRAND OLD MAN OF PACIFIC,' DIES AT 88

SHIPPING KING LOSES FIGHT FOR LIFE

International News Service.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., May 16.—Capt. Robert Dollar, 88-year-old shipping magnate, died early today.

Mrs. Dollar, who has been in faithful attendance since Capt. Dollar's illness set in on May 1, and Dollar's three sons, Melville, Harold and Stanley, were at his beside when the end came a few minutes after 1 o'clock this morning.

Capt. Dollar was first stricken with a severe cold and an old intestinal ailment complicated his condition.

IN COMA 50 HOURS

Dr. Rafael C. Dufficy, his physician, declared that he was amazed at the vitality of the doughty Scotch-American shipping veteran, who had been in a coma for 50 hours. Death had been expected for several days.

Capt. Dollar, a patriarchal figure with his silver-white hair and beard, successfully undertook unique and colossally difficult enterprises, many of them in the last years of his life.

He was a world-wide mercantile trader, a pioneer lumberman, a ship magnate, a builder of foreign trade, a home loving father and husband, a progressive businessman, a faithful churchman. He was a native of Falkirk, Scotland.

He was stricken with a severe cold May 1, two days after he had presided at the commencement exercises at the San Francisco Theological Seminary at San Anselmo, near here.

He had presented his annual gift of $10,000 to the institution.

THRICE BEAT DEATH

He returned from this thirty-second—and final—trip with his wife from the Orient in January, 1931, and later submitted to a bladder operation.

Capt. Dollar did not die in the manner that he had hoped. In his last interview he recently told International News Service:

"When my last chapter is closed, I hope it ends in this manner: Arise early, go to the office, put in a full day's work, return home, eat dinner with my family, retire, go to sleep and wake up in eternity."

He was an ardent worker, assuming an active role in the management of the Dollar Steamship Company, which circles the globe and employs more than 10,000 persons in far flung ports. Until recently, he had traveled daily to his offices in San Francisco.

In that final interview, he related:

'DID NOT WANT TO DIE'

Dr. Dufficy disclosed that Capt. Dollar "did not want to die." He had wanted to live to be 100 years old, provided he could have been active in his beloved business.

He began his colorful career in a cook's house in the woods of Ontario, Canada, after leaving his native Scotland.

Capt. Dollar, at the age of 12, worked in a machine shop for 60 cents a week; but at death he leaves a dazzling heritage, a fortune estimated at $75,000,000, a fleet of more than 50 ships dotting the seven seas; a far-flung army of loyal employes; friends by the score in the four corners of the planet, and a name respected in all of the maritime cities of the world.

'Work Hard, Follow Bible, Acquire Friends,' Dollar Formula for Success

International News Service.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., May 16.—Hard work and the Bible were the bases of the colorful career of Capt. Robert Dollar, "grand old man of the Pacific coast," who died at his home here early today.

Coming to Canada from his native Scotland at the age of 13, he became America's greatest owner of shipping.

Capt. Dollar's formulas for success adhered to three prime tenets, "work hard; follow the Bible; acquire friends." And that he had friends was shown wonderfully when he and Mrs. Dollar, the former Margaret Proudfoot, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary six years ago, for more than 700 of them made a pilgrimage of good will to the San Rafael home of the Dollars, while others too distant to make the journey, cabled and lettered their congratulations.

Capt. Dollar

1-10 years—Helped mother.

10-20 years—Bought farm for father.

40-50 years—Found new lumber markets.

50-60 years—Added shipping to lumber business.

60-70 years—Developed shipping and foreign trade.

70-80 years—Developed shipping in Far East.

FORCED INTO SHIP TRADE

After the death of his mother in 1858, young Dollar with his father migrated to Canada where he found day work in a stave mill. At the same time he kept books by night, making a total of $13 a month with which he bought a farm. In his memoirs, he said:

"It took me quite a long time to get it all paid for, but I succeeded; and I still own that farm."

When he married Miss Proudfoot in 1874 he was still in debt. His success, he repeatedly asserted, dated from his wedding day.

ADVISES YOUNG TO WORK

Capt. Dollar was 6 feet tall, broad-shouldered, slightly stooped, white hair and beard, strongly lined and ruddy face, and deep set, twinkling, keen blue eyes. He was at heart a woodsman to the end—one who loved the boom of the logs and the ring of an ax.

His maxims were:

"I believe in making contributions to worthy charities whenever I can."

"A busy day is always a happy day for me."

"I would tell the young men of today to take off their coats and work like hell."

"The ship owners of the future will have to compete with the carriers of the air."

CURTIS SPURS HUNT FOR BABY MURDERERS

ship blindfolded, but that it was somewhere off Throggs Neck in the Bronx. After explaining the bandage was removed from his eyes only when he came aboard. He related he told the kidnapers:

"Put down your guns. I am not armed. I've been a baseball umpire most of my life and I'm used to settling arguments without weapons."

DESCRIBES LEADER

One man talked with a German accent, another with an Italian pronounciation while a third seemed to be Spanish, Condon declared. The leader was German, about 35, 5 feet 8 inches tall, muscular and blond. Condon said:

"He had hawklike features, bulging forehead, a pointed chin and a cruel mouth. His name was John."

This John Condon related, was the man to whom he later paid the ransom in a New York cemetery. John explained the baby was removed from the ship the day previous, but that he would send "Jafsie" the infant's sleeping suit, which he did. John also said there were one or perhaps two, women among the band.

EXTORTION PLANNED

From the story unfolded by Condon and Morris Rosner, former government investigator who also acted as a Lindbergh emissary, police today constructed a theory of the crime, the highlights of which are these:

The kidnaping was planned to extort money from Lindbergh. The child's death, if not perhaps accidental, was decreed when it became too "hot" for the criminals to keep him and evade the gigantic manhunt which sprang up instantly with the hue and cry over the abduction.

While the chiefs of the kidnap ring stayed in a shack somewhere in Sourland Mountains, two men and a woman taken into the plot to care for the stolen infant, traveled by automobile to the Lindbergh home. The men climbed a ladder and took the child from its crib in the nursery.

After one or more slew the baby, the kidnapers, believing themselves secure from capture, started their ghastly negotiations to wrest cash from Lindbergh by trading on his longing to recover the baby, a longing they knew could never be fulfilled.

This, in essentials, was the police version. One point was obscure, and that was the possibility the baby was slain on the night it was captured, either because his cries threatened exposure of the kidnapers, or for some other reason, and was buried immediately in the shallow grave 4½ miles from its Sourland Mountain home, near Hopewell, N. J., where the body was found accidentally last week.

"JAFSIE" GUARDED

Condon's information and that of Curtis were regarded as of prime importance by the police in their search for the kidnap-murderers. Condon himself said he was informed he was chosen as negotiator by the group, who convinced him its members were the abductors, because one of their number once was a pupil of his when Condon was a public school principal.

Condon's house in the Bronx was placed under guard today for fear his revelations might bring attempted reprisals from the criminals.

Curtis, a southern ship builder, stayed in Newark overnight, stopping at a hotel where two members of the New Jersey state police also slept. He was to return to Newark police headquarters today.

H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the state police, announced that Lindbergh himself was actively co-operating in the hunt to track down the perpetrators of the appalling crime.

He also reported that Harry Fleischer, Purple gangster of Detroit, and Abie Wagner, New York gangster, long sought as possible suspects in the case, were still wanted for questioning.

LINDY SUSPECT HUNTED IN OHIO

For several weeks after the Lindbergh baby was kidnaped, Matowitz said, plainclothes policemen and postoffice inspectors constantly guarded the general delivery window of the Cleveland postoffice, waiting for the man.

The extortionist had sent a letter to Col. Lindbergh demanding payment of $50,000 to Mr. —— in care of the general delivery. Authorities here prepared a dummy package of money for him, but Matoditz said the man never appeared to claim it.

Belief that the real kidnapers and some of the other extortionists would be captured soon was expressed by Chief of Detectives Cornelius Cody, who attended the New Jersey national conference of detectives concerning the Lindbergh case several weeks ago.

LINDYS THANK DR. CONDON

NEW YORK, May 16.—(INS)—A letter of appreciation which Col. Lindbergh wrote to Dr. John F. Condon, Bronx investigator for the return of the Lindbergh baby, and the man who paid out the $50,000 ransom money, was made public today.

The letter, dated May 15, read:

"My Dear Dr. Condon:

"Mrs. Lindbergh and I want to thank you for the great assistance you have been to us. We fully realize that you have devoted the major portion of your time and energy to bring about the return of our son. We want to express to you our sincere appreciation for your courage and co-operation.

"Sincerely,

"CHARLES A. LINDBERGH."

A. A. Gist, superintendent of the Southern Kansas division, notified the agent at Brazilton to grant the request of a banker that the car be permitted to remain on a siding until the robins nesting in it have hatched their young.

LINDY 'BROKE,' PAPER SAYS

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Eagle today said it had learned from a source close to the heads of the Lindbergh kidnaping investigation that a week before the body of his baby was found, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh told an intermediary who visited him that he was "broke."

At the same time, the Eagle said, Col. Lindbergh said the search for his kidnaped child had cost him personally about $200,000, and that he had to borrow from a bank $25,000 of the ransom money paid to the supposed kidnapers by Dr. John F. Condon, Bronx mediator and the "Jafsie" of the newspaper advertisements.

The Eagle said it had learned that whatever fortune the flier had was invested in aviation securities in his enthusiasm for the advancement of aviation, and the paper pointed out that these securities have undergone considerable deflation.

Closed Bank to Pay 25 Per Cent Dividend

NEW CASTLE, Pa., May 16.—Attorney Orville Brown, representing County Comptroller R. C. McCaslin, Jr., is completing details of the 25 per cent payment to be made by the defunct Citizens National Bank, of Ellwood City, to its depositors, of which Lawrence County is one of the largest. The county will receive over $36,000 of the $147,161.74 which was deposited in the bank by former County Treasurer Adda M. Smiley. The bonding company of Miss Smiley stands good for the balance.

CROWNING HELD BY NURSES

Student nurses of St. Francis Hospital held a May crowning yesterday in the chapel of the nurses' home. Miss Mary Ann Burns was crowned by the Rev. Father Daniel O. M. Cap. Miss Burns in turn crowned the statue of the Blessed Virgin, amid solemn ceremony.

Hundreds jammed the streets in the vicinity of the Mother of Good Counsel Church, Bennett and Hale streets, as a procession from the parish school to the church preceded the crowning of Miss Josaphine Berardino.

The Rev. Father F. DeFrancesco placed the wreath upon the head of Miss Berardino, who then crowned the image of the Blessed Virgin. Young women of the parish joined in the celebration. The Rev. Father Patrick De Banna was in charge of the services.

MILLIONAIRE'S WIFE TERMED BEST MEDIUM

Psychic Research Official Tells of Disclosures Made In Spirit Experiments

Universal Service.

BOSTON, May 16.—Mrs. Marion Spore-Bush, wife of Irving T. Bush, millionaire New York industrialist, has become "one of the greatest spirit mediums in America," Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, secretary of the American Society for Psychic Research, said today. He added:

"I have been experimenting with her for more than a year. That is, I as agent test her psychic abilities, and she, as percipient, reveals what comes to her. I make frequent trips to her apartment in New York to engage her in these experiments, often with Mr. Bush present. I take down notes and keep a record of what she does.

"Sometimes her psychic powers appear to be only telepathy. Sometimes her revelerations are not correct at all, sometimes a warping of the facts. Then again they will be absolutely accurate, establishing her right to be called a psychic medium of most unusual gifts."

TOLD ABOUT SELF

Dr. Prince emphasized that Mrs. Bush was not a physical medium, most of whom, like the famous Mme. Palladino, were sooner or later exposed as fakes.

Dr. Prince mentioned several things Mrs. Bush told him about himself that he had not known but found to be true. She wrote them or spoke them in spirit communications. Recently she informed him that his car was out of order. There never had been anything wrong with his car, but his daughter complained a few days ago that it was not running properly. Then two wheels fell off.

During one experiment while Mrs. Bush was writing down what came to her from spirits, Dr. Prince said she remarked to him:

"I see an animal with a bushy tail and white on its back, near your house."

SPIRITS GUIDE ART

Bush also was sitting in at the experiment. (Dr. Prince dislikes the word seance) and the prominent millionaire, who is known to believe implicitly in his wife's psychic gifts, asked in surprise:

"A skunk?"

They all laughed, but Dr. Prince discovered later his daughter was harboring a pet skunk.

Dr. Prince said he has known Mrs. Bush for 16 years ever since she abandoned her profession of dentistry for painting without art study of any kind, but under "spirit guidance."

WIFE SHOT AS 2 FIGHT FOR GUN

Mrs. Maude Leathers, 44, of Mt. Carmel road, Penn Township, was recovering in Pittsburgh Hospital today from gunshot wounds inflicted, police said, during a struggle between her husband, Herbert Leathers, 50, and a farmhand, Charles Mesta, 37, for possession of a shotgun.

Mesta, who took Mrs. Leathers to the hospital, told county detectives that as the family was preparing to eat supper, Leathers went to his room and got the shotgun, announcing that he was going to kill somebody.

Mesta said he grappled with Leathers and the gun was discharged, several of the pellets striking Mrs. Leathers. Leathers and Mesta were detained pending the outcome of Mrs. Leathers' injuries.

JAPAN LOOKING FOR WAR, SAYS GIBBONS

By FLOYD GIBBONS

WASHINGTON, May 16.—Hello, everybody. That terrible storm Tokio is going to help the cold water stand Japan in better fighting trim.

We couldn't figure out what was the rampage in Manchuria wasn't exactly the purpose down in Shanghai, the assassination attempts, Japanese [illegible] sale attempts of the cabinet members now, this fighting between the nation and the army, it's all about.

Japan is looking for a fight.

The Japanese have been itching for it for months. There was not much the corner saloon Mikado kicked the bucket of a gang of Chinese who just hanging around ing.

TURNED ON SHANGHAI

Then they asked all the Uncle Sam and the rest of Nations if anybody wanted any of the same and bystanders rushed to their homes and moved out and allowed them none, thank you.

Then they found Manchuria was made faces across the Amur River and dared any Siberian to step over and put up his dukes and you couldn't find the shadow of a fight from Whiskey Row to Cheerhedoff.

Well, sir, it looked as though the field was all cleaned up all Asia was cowed and shivering and speaking meekly, when Japan stepped in and [illegible] between the fresh graves and M. Stimson was over in Europe and you couldn't get a yip out of the League of Nations even if you pointed Geneva—so there was every prospect of a terrible peaceful summer without a shot fired.

And then a thought struck that young Japanese militarist party. It just turned around and beat it right back home to Japan and turned loose on the family. If a feller can't get a fight down the street when he's looking for it, well, there's nothing to do but go home and sock grandpa on the button and tip over the baby's high chair and slap mother in the face.

That's what happened yesterday in Japan.

OUTBREAK EXPECTED

There was no secret about the outbreak of Fascist terror and revolt in Tokio. Americans as well as Japanese have been fearing it any day for the last two months.

Six weeks ago American residents in Tokio told me they were getting ready to send their women and children to Manila because they believed the military would rise against the government in an effort to establish a military dictatorship under the Emperor.

Their greatest fear then—and it is even greater now in view of yesterday's horrifying events—is that this revolt will spread into a general anti-foreign massacre. I hate to write that but it is certainly in the cards if this thing spreads.

The Japanese militarists are fighting mad and looking for victims and, if they win out of government heads, ministers, financiers and high officials they will next start on the foreigners. And among the foreigners in Japan at present, the American is just one point above the bubonic plague in popularity.

The military party in Japan is even more strongly entrenched than the Prussian militarists in the old empire of Kaiser Bill. The ministers of war and of navy do not report to the head of the civil government but direct to the Emperor and to the Emperor only, and if the other members of the cabinet, including the Prime Minister and the whole Japanese congress to boot, won't play ball with the army and the navy—well it's just too bad, and the army and the navy will attatch a new cabinet that will.

But the young militarists in Japan are still not satisfied. They have the yen for a military dictator and to heck with all this voting business.

The warriors of old Japan were her nobility and the idea still persists even in these so-called modern times. The officers of the army and navy believe that the sidewalks are for him and all traders, financiers, manufacturers, shopkeepers, artisans, students, workers—they belong in the street. There's sure going to be an awful mess in Japan before this idea is eradicated.

These young Jap militarists are backed up by super-patriotic societies—blood-brothers, they call themselves—and all co-ordinated in the secret organization called the Black Dragon. It is a sort of a super-Japanese K. K. K. and it is superior to the police, who never interfere with them.

War is brewing in the far East and we want none of it. Unfortunately, we are not ready at present to adequately defend ourselves if this irresponsible menace is suddenly directed against us.

Our first and immediate step should be to remove politics from Hawaii, which is now under the political domination of 140,000 Japanese.

The islands should be administered as an American fort, the keystone of our defense in the Pacific. They should be administered by a military commission.

Japan Facing Crisis Over Assassination

Tokio Waiting for Fascist Drive

By FRAZIER HUNT

Famous War Correspondent and Author

TOKIO, May 16.—Stunned across yesterday's assassination [illegible] Tokio calmly [illegible] apparently time will put their Fascist friends in power. The civil authorities are entirely helpless to try their cases as it is an army matter entirely.

Early this morning the cabinet resigned but the Emperor refused to accept, ordering them to remain in office temporarily. The acting premier, Korekiyo Takahashi, is now holding a secret session of the government Seiyukai party to decide upon cabinet changes. Unquestionably the ministers of war and navy will be changed.

While coolies dragging sightseers' hooded automobile newspaper extras cheat on all sides strange expressions of sympathy for the youths who took the law into their own hands.

ACT CONDONED

From government officials down to the men on the streets is a feeling that the officers followed misguided but patriotic motives.

FATE WITH FRIENDS

[illegible] on their side because [illegible]

Makino, lord keeper of the privy seal and a close imperial adviser, in a bombing upon his home. Although the home was extensively damaged, the statesman escaped unhurt.

The home of Foreign Minister Kenkichi Yoshizawa also was bombed. He was away at the time.

A group of six men including three men in army lieutenants' uniforms called at the home of Minister of War Araki at midnight flourishing pistols and demanding his life. He was not at home, however, and escaped.

In carrying their raids almost to the walls of the imperial palace the Fascists dared the wrath of a nation that regards the neighborhood of the Emperor's residence and all things pertaining to him as sacred.

While the bombings were in progress youths ran through the city distributing handbills curiously reminiscent of the Germany Awake cry of Adolf Hitler's German Fascists. Signed by the Young Officers' Alliance, the handbills stated:

"Japan, awake! Our nation's existence is endangered by politicians. People, beware."

What political consequences yesterday's reign of violence may have can only be conjectured.

Inukai is the third Japanese statesman and the second premier felled by an assassin within two years.

The last assassination of a prominent Japanese was the murder two months ago of Baron Takuma Dan, financial and industrial magnate, and one of the empire's wealthiest men.

He was shot down in front of his Tokio office by a farmer lad who identified himself with a patriotic "blood brotherhood," led by a Buddhist monk. The assassin and six fellow-conspirators are awaiting trial. Death sentences are forecast.

Baron Yuko Hamaguchi, premier of the Minseito government that preceded the present cabinet, was shot by a Japanese youth while embarking at Tokio for army maneuvers in the provinces. He submitted to two operations, but died from the effects of the wounds.

Last March Finance Minister Inoue was attacked by an assassin but recovered from his wounds. Shortly afterward the Minseito party cabinet resigned and was succeeded by the Seiyukai party government.

COX INSPECTS TOWN SITE

Father Cox spent Sunday afternoon with several of his aids in making an inspection of the site of his newly-launched farming community—"Coxtown"—on Kittanning pike formulating plans for dividing the 32-acre location into one-quarter acre garden plots and assigning each to a poor family. In another week "Coxtown" will be a reality. The ground will have been broken by tractors, plowed and ready for the needy families to take possession. Father Cox is delighted with the location. The soil has been tested and found to be far above the average in cultivation value.

Father Cox

In the meantime the Father Cox-Sun-Telegraph Home Delivery Drive is showing satisfactory results, the funds from this activity going a long way to feed the lengthy breadline that congregates every day at old St. Patrick's.

If you want to help this "father of the jobless" at a time when he most needs help, at a time when the problem of feeding thousands of hungry men, women and children is more serious than ever, clip the order blank on this page and send it in today. You'll not only get a GOOD newspaper, but you'll have the personal satisfaction of giving your personal aid to a worthy cause. Send the subscription blank to Father Cox if you wish.

If you are living in a city or town where there is no home delivery of the Sun-Telegraph, write to the subscription department, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., for mail subscription rates and state in your letter you are interested in the Father Cox fund.

RAID NUDISTS, 511 NOW IN JAIL

NELSON, B. C., May 16.—(AP)—A third Sunday raid on a parade of nude Doukhobors resulted in an increase of the jail population of members of the sect to 511 today.

For the third Sunday in succession the nudists gathered in an orchard at Thrums yesterday and began disrobing. Police immediately ordered trucks sent from Nelson and loaded 254 naked men, women and children and brought them to the Nelson jail. There was no resistance.

The additional prisoners arrived as the Doukhobors already imprisoned abandoned a hunger strike they had started last week. The strike was partly in protest against their imprisonment and partly against the removal of children of the prisoners to public institutions in Vancouver and Victoria.

well paneled hunting country. The association has elected its north of the Fox Chapel district new officers. Mrs. James Kirk is out as far as the Butler County the new president, first vice presilines. The kennels are located at dent, Mrs. James Lockhead, secthe Carr Riding school on the ond vice president, Elinor Wilon Deer Creek Club road near Al- liams, recording secretary, Mrs. lison Park. Harry Hunt, corresponding secre-

Young Tommy Hilliard, son of tary, Mary Louise Riley, and the Thomas J. Hilliards of Fox treasurer, Mrs. John Conwell. Chapel, is master of fox hounds of the Junior Hunt.

Club News

Mary Hilliard is president, Anne Berger, secretary, Mary Louise Flinn, treasurer, Mary Hilliard and Nancy Patterson, whips and George Harris and Toby Hilliard, honorary whips.

McDonald Dinner

Nancy Patterson is chairman of the entry committee for the show, and Mary Hilliard is in charge of the prize committee with Mary Louise Flinn as treasurer. Mrs. John W. Lawrence is honorary president of the Hunt and Mrs. Thomas J. Hilliard, honorary vice president.

There'll be 13 classes in the show, consisting of saddle and jumping classes for children ranging in all ages up to and including 15. No child over 15 will be allowed to ride.

Thirteen Classes

By way of diversion, there will be several gymkhana games including potato chair and nightshirt races.

Judging will be based 75 per cent on horsemanship and 25 per cent on the performance of the horse or pony with the object being to promote and develop horsemanship among children.

Richard King Mellon, master of Rolling Rock hounds, and Torrence Miller, master of Westmoreland hounds, together with George R. McNary, Dr. Ralph Lynch and Mrs. Thomas J. Hilliard will act as a general ring committee in charge, with John W. Lawrence as chairman. This committee will also act as judges for the different classes.

WILKINSBURG YEAR BOOK ISSUED

Final Luncheon of 1931-32 Season Held at Longue Vue Attended By More Than 200 Women

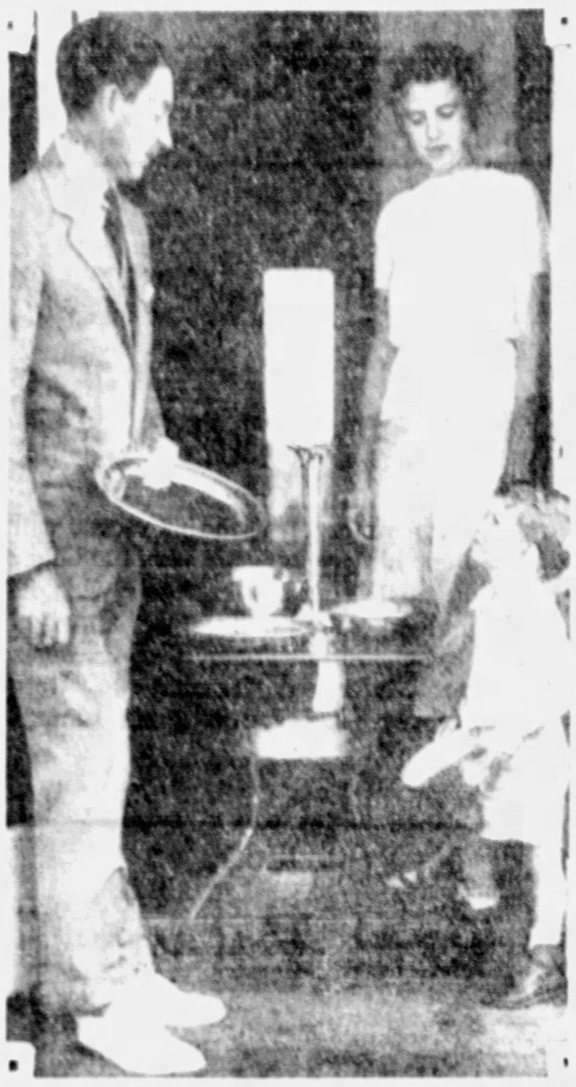
By MRS. CHARLES M. BREGG

The year books of the Wilkinsburg Woman's Club, which are distributed at the annual luncheon, are always among the first of the new season's crop. Moreover, they are always among the most interesting. Beginning the 1932-33 season on October 3, the programs will include the opening musicale, a debate on whether the modern home is or the pioneer home was conducive to greater happiness, a federation day, a talk by Mrs. David N. Denman, a play reading by Mary Jones Sherrill, a day devoted to "New Russia," a lecture by Elmer Stephan, art director of the public schools, a play by the members, a Pittsburgh composers' musicale, an address by Dr. J. C. McGregor, an evening's entertainment by the juniors, a talk by Dr. W. P. Tolley, president of Allegheny College, an afternoon on Japan, the annual business meeting and the annual luncheon.

More than 200 women attended the closing luncheon in the Longue Vue Country Club Saturday, the guests including the juniors. The program was one of exceptional artistry. Carolyn Hunt Mahaffey, with Hulda Lefridge, playing her usual fine accompaniments, sang three groups of varied numbers, all of them with great beauty. Mrs. Sherrill, who is to read "The First Mrs. Fraser" for the club next season, gave Booth Tarkington's comedy of the Americans in Sicily, "The Travelers" and the legend of Niagara which Alfred Noyes has written into "The River of Stars." A Dorothy Parker poem and an adapted monologue were her encores. Mrs. Sherrill does not stand still in her art as her interpretations of Saturday very definitely showed. Neither does she allow her repertoire to become stale or settled, which is most commendable.

200 at Luncheon

Mrs. W. E. Brinker was introduced by the retiring president, Mrs. James I. McLallen, and both new and retiring officers stood in the receiving line.



MR. AND MRS. HALBERT J. BLUE AND THEIR YOUNG SON

Mr. Blue, prominent golfer, and his wife, the former Miss Louise Downes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Downes, Jr., of Pittsburgh, at their Pinehurst, N. C., home checking Mr. Blue's many golf trophies. This is an International News Photograph Service picture.

Mt. Lebanon Girl Betrothed to Southerner

The month of May has brought many engagements and wedding plans. The engagement of Miss Jane Lowe Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fisher, of Parkway Drive, Mt. Lebanon, to Robert E. Lee Galthin, of Greenville, S. C., was announced at a bridge tea in Miss Fisher's home on Saturday afternoon. The wedding will take place early in August.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Murphy, of Mt. Lebanon, announce the marriage of their sister, Miss Eleanor D. Lowry, of Cathedral Mansions, to Clark M. Wimbles, of Detroit, which was solemnized Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the rectory of St. Paul's Cathedral. Officiating was the Rev. Vincent S. Burke.

The bride wore a rose beige crepe suit with a matching hat, and a corsage of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley. Her sister, Mrs. Murphy, as the matron of honor and only attendant, appeared in a costume of beige crepe with a matching hat, and wore a corsage of gardenias and rosebuds. Mr. Murphy was the best man.

In Beige Crepe

After the wedding breakfast in the Hotel William Penn, Mr. and Mrs. Wimbles left for the South. They will make their home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

* * *

The women golfers of the Edgewood Country Club are holding a golf tournament and luncheon, open to women members of other country clubs, on Monday, May 23. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the Family-Help-Family fund. Reservations must be made at the club.

The marriage of Miss Mary Mogan, of McKees Rocks, to Adam Walters, also of McKees Rocks, will take place tomorrow in St. Francis de Sales Church. Miss Mogan has chosen Miss Ella M. O'Leary to be her maid of honor, and her brother, Joseph Mogan, will be the best man. Mrs. D. R. O'Leary entertained with an informal reception Thursday evening in honor of the bride-elect.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Briggs, formerly of Bellevue, have just returned from two years spent in France and England, where they visited relatives. They are guests of their daughter, Mrs. John S. Brunner, of Wellington Heights.

* * *

Wednesday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, a benefit bridge party will be held in the restaurant parlors of the Seventh Avenue Hotel, with Mrs. Joseph Klein as hostess of the event, which is sponsored by the Poale Zedeck Sisterhood.

* * *

At the first official meeting of the alumni of the University of Chicago Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Bureau of Mines, Dean William E. Scott, advisory dean of the university, will describe the new educational plan. William V. Morganstern, official contact man, will talk, and will show a film, "Life on the Quadrangle."

In charge of the meeting are Mrs. Norman H. Brownlee, Mrs. Edith B. Maize, Miss Mary Maize, Dr. Roscoe Gabbert and Reinhardt Thiessen.

* * *

Several members will recall various phases of the national convention when the local branch of the League of American Pen Women meets Thursday in the Woman's City Club. Among the members who will report the biennial are the Pittsburgh president, Miss Suzanne Beatty, Miss Marianne Genet, Mrs. John A. Shoemaker, Mrs. Florence Fisher Parry and Mrs. Chester B. Story.

* * *

Officers elected for next year by the Bryn Mawr Farms Woman's Club are: President, Mrs. J. Wilson Brown; vice president, Mrs. E. Hill Turnock; recording secretary, Mrs. Asa Bentley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. F. C. Ashe; treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Byerly.

Officers Chosen

MODERN TREND IN SMART ACCESSORIES

Sketched in Paris

PARIS, May 16.—The gloves in the sketch are of the type that may be worn either with afternoon clothes or evening. They are both of white suede—the supple, soft suede that Alexandrine prefers for all gloves but those for the street or for sports wear.

* * *

ONE IS slashed from the wrist to the top and laced through enamel covered eyelets with a ribbon of suede, ending in tassels of slashed suede. The other is trimmed only with groups of tiny tucks, done by hand.

Ford Orders Help Accessory Makers

CHICAGO, May 16.—Production at plants of Bendix Aviation Corporation and Borg-Warner Corporation is stimulated somewhat by orders from Ford Motor Company. With the exception of the latter business, automotive accessory manufacturing in this area is slow. A recession from the better levels of the year is noticeable as car manufacturers continue to order on a hand to mouth basis. To date this year, however, both companies have operated at a profit.

CONVICT KILLER OF GIRL DIES

ROCKVIEW PENITENTIARY, BELLEFONTE, Pa., May 16 (INS) — ... ing bragga... Negro ... death ... Betty Hirkok ... Rockview ...

The girl daughter of Dr. Asa ... Hirkok was attacked and stabbed by Collins when she had befriended by acts of kindness which, indirectly led to her death. Collins, mad with jealousy because the girl had attempted to ease the lot of other prisoners slashed Miss Hirkok to death.

Accompanied by the Rev. C. F. Lauer, prison clergyman, Collins walked through the little gray door at 7 a. m. The first shock passed through his body three minutes later, and he was pronounced dead by Dr. W. A. Barrett, prison physician.

The Rev. Dr. Lauer revealed that Collins had prayed frequently in recent weeks saying he had become "super-religious."

RIPLEY CONTEST CLOSES TONIGHT

'Believe It or Nots' Must Be in Mail By Midnight.

Mr. Ripley

... weeks to Montreal and Quebec.

Mr. RCA-Victor radio-phonograph.

The Jenkins "radiovision" television which enables you to see as well as hear programs.

A set of Rogers silver 87-piece full dinner service for eight, in a beautiful cabinet of Carpathian elm.

The Gruen Guild Carre watch, in a case which makes it suitable for purse or pocket or as a small desk clock.

On tomorrow we will award the last of the daily prizes in this contest.

Don't forget that although this is the last day your chances of winning this contest are just as good as on the first day.

All you have to do is to write legibly some surprising or unbelievable fact on one side of the paper only, please, some fact which you think would make a good Ripley drawing, you don't have to draw it, add any proof or explanation necessary and mail it before midnight tonight to the "Believe It or Not Editor" of the Sun-Telegraph. Good luck!

Contest Rules

1 You may submit as many Believe It or Nots as you wish. You do not have to submit any drawings or sketches. Write legibly on one side of the paper. Have your name and address on each sheet of paper if you send in more than one. Each entry must contain the explanation or proof of its truth. The Sun-Telegraph will not be responsible for the return of entries.

2 Contributions will be judged daily for the local prizes. No contribution will be considered which is mailed after midnight, May 16.

3 The contestant agrees to accept the judgment of the Sun-Telegraph in the awarding of the daily prizes. Only contributions winning daily prizes will be forwarded to Mr. Ripley to compete for the grand prize. The contestant agrees to accept Mr. Ripley's judgment on the grand prize winners as final. Nine grand prize winners will be named in the order of the merit of his or her contribution. The first prize winner will have first choice of the nine grand prizes, the second prize winner will have his choice of the remaining eight prizes and so on until the grand prizes are all taken.

4 In case of ties the same prizes will be awarded to all tying contestants.

5 You do not have to buy the Sun-Telegraph to compete in this contest. Files of the Sun-Telegraph may be found at the public notary or at the office of the Sun-Telegraph, where the drawings of Mr. Ripley and the instructions of the contest may be consulted.

There Is Still Time To Qualify for Big Prizes.

MINERS' AGENT URGES CONTROL

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — ... of the United Mine Workers of America, told a Senate committee today the bituminous operators have ... by their opposition to ... Federal regulation ... Chairman Adams said: "The industry is the only one interested in coal that is protected by federal and state regulations. It has a feudal system. I favored ... Herrin said.

The uneconomic wage rates now being paid bituminous miners are the direct result of the uneconomic practices which have prevailed in the industry for more than 70 years.

The miners have played a losing game with the operators and suffered all the poverty known to mankind, for all these many years, and they know full well that the industry of its own accord cannot set its house in order."

RUSE AIDS BANK ROBBERY GANG

STREATOR, Ill., May 16 — (INS) — After luring police from the city with a fake accident call and holding prisoner an assistant cashier until time locks opened, five bandits today looted the Union National Bank here of $50,000 and escaped.

William Boys, president of the bank, and five employes, were herded into the cashier's office and forced to lie on the floor under guard while the vault was looted.

The bandits went first to the home of Earl McNamara, assistant cashier early this morning. They forced McNamara to accompany them to the bank and open the door. One of their number remained at the McNamara home, guarding Mrs. McNamara and her children.

Arriving at the bank, the robbers waited until 8:30 for the time clock to open the vault. Boys and the other employes came in while they were waiting and were herded into the cashier's office. When the mechanism released the bars of the vault, the robbers calmly loaded the cash into canvas bags and backed from the bank.

WIFE SEES MAN END LIFE

WASHINGTON, May 16 (AP) — After firing two shots into the wall to make sure his pistol was working, Joseph Younger, 37, architect, turned the gun upon himself and sent a bullet through his heart today in his apartment.

While his wife, Mrs. Ethel Younger, watched from her bed, just a few feet away, afraid to intervene, he swayed back and forth a few times, then fell to the floor, dead.

His 7-year-old son, Bruce, was in an adjoining room, but ran into his parents' bedroom when he heard the first shot. His mother made him leave.

Younger designed many buildings here, including the new Kennedy-Warren apartments and the Sixth Presbyterian Church. His work on the apartment building earned him an award from the Board of Trade.

'LOVE SLAVERY' GIFTS DENIED

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP)—Mrs. Selma C. Young, wealthy widow, denied on the witness stand today that she had conspired with her son, Otto Heyworth, to abduct Mona O'Connor.

Mrs. Young and her son are being sued by Mrs. Gerteress O'Connor, mother of Mona, for $250,000.

Mrs. Young testified she had never promised the girl that she would send her to Bermuda with Otto, nor had she ever given the girl a watch and $400 with which to buy clothes. This contradicted directly the testimony given by Mona and Mrs. O'Connor at the trial last week.

However, Mrs. Young admitted that she had given the girl a ring when she visited Mona at post-graduate hospital where she was a patient following a nose operation. She said she handed the ring to the girl merely because she had felt sorry for her and "to bring her luck" after Otto had told her Mona was alone and friendless in New York City.

Sea Hi-Jacker Slain By Irate Husband

NORFOLK, Va., May 16.—(AP)—Bernard (Bunny) Ennis, 47, alleged member of a Norfolk gang who flared into notoriety 12 years ago by attempting to hi-jack a Japanese steamer for liquor, was shot to death in a hotel here yesterday. John S. Garthright, an advertising promoter, surrendered to police and was held on a charge of murder.

Garthright, who recently moved to Ocean View, near here from Richmond, Va., was quoted by police as saying he knocked on his wife's door and Ennis answered the knock.

MASSIE HOPES FOR PARDON

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(AP)—Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, visiting here today with his wife and her uncle, Robert Bell, theater director of New York, wants just one thing—a full pardon—before he tries to forget the so-called Honolulu "honor slaying."

Commenting on the attack on Mrs. Massie and the conviction and commutation of sentence against himself and three others for killing Joseph Kahahawai, alleged assailant, he said:

"Clarence Darrow, our attorney, says a pardon is practically certain."

The Massies will remain here until tomorrow when they will go to Winchester, Ky., to visit the naval officer's mother.

APPROVE PLAN FOR RIVER WORK

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The House Rivers and Harbors Committee today put its approval upon the War Department's revised plans for improvement of the lower Allegheny River, which call for the abolition of the Herrs Island Dam and reconstruction of the Aspinwall and Springdale dams together with new channel work.

The improvement will cost $4,906,000, an increase of about $1,291,000 over the estimated cost of work now authorized.

Some Fellows Are Just an Expense to Wives

He won't keep a job, he won't even pay the rent, and Ann and her baby would be starving on a park bench if it weren't for [illegible] aunt.

Yet she wants to know if she can "get along" without him!

Yes, [illegible]! That's her question!

Will [illegible] and [illegible] my problem [illegible]
Dear Miss [illegible]

I have [illegible] for [illegible] years. For [illegible] when we were first [illegible] we lived with my husband's [illegible] her then because of [illegible] she made I got up and [illegible] and found he came with [illegible]. So after my baby was [illegible] we went to housekeeping [illegible] ourselves, but still things [illegible] gone well.

QUIT HIS JOBS

Although [illegible] mother works she expects [illegible] a little her part of what he [illegible] too, and on top of that [illegible] about things to me over [illegible] at all. And when everything was going along well and he quit his job because [illegible] a cut in salary.

Then he [illegible] packed up and moved his mother's place and told me that she thought I was going to [illegible] mother's and that he would stay with her. But in spite of that I stayed with him. I stayed [illegible] months and during that time there was a [illegible] ment after [illegible] ment. Everything I ever [illegible] her she categorically refused to [illegible] made a fool out of it.

Finally I left and did go to my own mother, but he wouldn't give me any peace. He called me on the phone and begged me to come back to [illegible]. I was nearly wild. During [illegible] me my father had got him a job, which he quit when I left and went home. Even before he quit he had taken a good many days off that I knew nothing about till my father told me later.

REFUSES TO HELP

After four months he succeeded in getting another job and we began housekeeping again. I borrowed $46 to do this. Then after we were together a week he told me he had no job. That was last November and to this day my aunt has been keeping us.

Although [illegible] mother works she expects [illegible] a little her part of what he [illegible] too, and on top of that [illegible] about things to me over [illegible] at all. And when everything was going along well and he quit his job because [illegible] a cut in salary.

Then he [illegible] packed up and moved his mother's place and told me that she thought I was going to [illegible] mother's and that he would stay with her. But in spite of that I stayed with him. I stayed [illegible] months and during that time there was a [illegible] ment after [illegible] ment. Everything I ever [illegible] her she categorically refused to [illegible] made a fool out of it.

Finally I left and did go to my own mother, but he wouldn't give me any peace. He called me on the phone and begged me to come back to [illegible]. I was nearly wild. During [illegible] me my father had got him a job, which he quit when I left and went home. Even before he quit he had taken a good many days off that I knew nothing about till my father told me later.

Fay King Warns Young People to Be Sensible and Cautious in Flirtations

By FAY KING

In spite of anything and everything elders may say, young eyes and young hearts will grow brighter and beat faster when they look upon each other.

And a flirtation with the RIGHT one is better than a formal introduction to the WRONG one.

But there must be some sensible caution to flirtation. For a flirtation calls for much decorum if it is to develop into real love and respect.

Don't go riding in cars, and drinking and petting with strangers with whom you have flirted.

Walk and talk among the crowds, and if you find each other pleasant and nice, meet again, and be honest in your credentials.

To flirt is no crime, providing all parties are young, and free, and full of the sweetness and honesty of unspoiled youth.

Parent's Co-operation Is Needed to Check Measles

In a recent report from the Department of Health of New York City, it is stated that the number of cases of measles reported in 1931 was greater than that of the preceding year. But 1931 was not expected to be a measles year.

Dr. Copeland

Since 1918 records show that even-numbered years are likely to be measles years; the numbers of cases of measles having far exceeded those reported in odd-numbered years. For example, in 1928 over 35,000 cases were reported. In the following year, an odd-numbered year, there were only 2,000 cases.

Measles is essentially a disease of children and it is a serious ailment when it affects children under 5 years of age. It is highly contagious and practically all children who are exposed will contract the disease.

The first symptom is usually like that of a severe cold in the head. The eyes, nose and throat become inflamed, and the eyes are extremely sensitive to light. The sufferer becomes restless, has fever and refuses food. About the fourth day the fever goes down and a rash appears on the face and back.

This rash spreads over the body, but as soon as it appears the patient feels better. The rash lasts about a week, and peeling of the skin occurs in about 10 days. The disease is contagious until a week after the rash disappears.

Unfortunately measles is usually considered as a mild disease, but though the disease itself is seldom fatal, the complications which may occur are dangerous. These are bronchopneumonia, influenza, real pneumonia, severe laryngitis and intestinal complications. Every effort should be made to prevent these dangers.

It is exceedingly important to separate the patient from the rest of the family, and all exposed persons must be kept under observation. Exposed children, unless they have already had measles, must not be permitted to attend school or to play with other children.

The patient should be kept warm in an airy room, and protected from drafts. Admit to the room all sunlight possible, but protect the patient's eyes from any glare, either with smoked glasses or placing pads over the eyes. Also, the eyes should be cleansed frequently with warm boric acid solution. Pure white vaseline may be placed upon the lids to prevent their sticking together.

The rash often causes the skin to become greatly irritated and inflamed. To overcome this annoying condition, sponge the skin with baking powder dissolved in water. When the skin peels, daily baths with baking powder solution are beneficial.

We should co-operate to wipe out this disease. Every year must be made a "non-measles year."

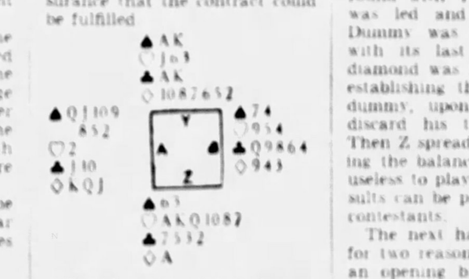
OFFICIAL SYSTEM As Adopted by Leading Authorities

By E. V. SHEPARD

Feature Showing

Both hands given today reached slam bids through feature showing. Bidding on the hand shown below was especially illuminating. By no other method could a grand slam have been bid with advance assurance that the contract could be fulfilled.



Z made a semi-demand opening bid of 2-Hearts. Quite naturally A overcalled with 2-Spades. Y showed no losers in the adversely bid suit by saying 3-Spades, which bid also showed especial support for a slam attempt. Having the A-K of two suits, Y felt that his partner's promise of at least seven tricks must be based upon powerful hearts plus high honor strength in diamonds.

Z kept bidding below a game contract in hearts by declaring 4-Diamonds to show the Ace of that suit. A passed; Y made a very useful bid: his call of 6-Clubs (one trick higher than required to overcall the preceding declaration) stated that he held no losing clubs. This was all that Z needed to bid his 7-Hearts.

The opening lead was the Q of spades. Dummy won the trick and led back a low diamond. The declarer won the trick, then he took three rounds of trumps, winning the third round with Y's J. A diamond was led and trumped by Z. Dummy was put in the lead with its last spade. Another diamond was led and trumped, establishing three diamonds in dummy, upon which Z could discard his two losing clubs. Then Z spread his hand, claiming the balance of tricks. It is useless to play a hand after results can be plainly read by all contestants.

The next hand is interesting for two reasons. First, Z made an opening bid of three, demanding partner's response. Second, feature showing followed, although some players would not have indulged in that after partner had bid just game.

A's opening bid of 3-Spades was raised to 4-Spades by B. To discover what his partner held for an assist, A showed his Ace of clubs, by venturing to bid 5-Clubs. B denied having possession of the other minor ace by bidding 5-Hearts. Knowing that a small slam should be made, and that a grand slam must be impossible, A ended bidding with 6-Spades, which contract was easily fulfilled.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

The receding chin will appear to be more up and coming if it is touched with a bit of rouge of medium shade. Large ear lobes take on smaller dimensions when they are touched with the blush-color that comes out of the rouge compact. Carmine on the eyelids has a kindly way of putting brightness into eyes that are weary.

At the first sign of wrinkles, purchase a heavy massage cream, apply faithfully every night. Nearly always the complexion has gone dry by the time lines appear; it will lap up any oily cosmetic with eagerness. Friction necessary to the application of cream does its part too, starting blood streams to purring, forcing dead skin cells from the epidermis, urging tissues and small fibres to function, carry on.

Correct Manners

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

Condolences

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We recently had a discussion as to which is the proper way to affix the signature to a condolence card attached to flowers.

1. There are about 20 employed in our office. Heretofore when flowers were sent as an expression of sympathy, the card attached bore the inscription, "Sympathy from employes of the Blank Department." We recently had occasion to send flowers to one of our co-workers who lost his father, and the person sending the flowers listed the name of each individual who contributed to the flower fund. I maintain that this was not proper, as it made very conspicuous those who did not contribute. Please advise.

2. Please also advise whether it is proper to send printed cards in acknowledgment of flowers. M.

1. I agree most enthusiastically with the latter method. The writing of the individual names of the contributors to the flower fund. Of course, I don't mean that I would like to make conspicuous those who did not contribute to the fund, but I do think that it should be looked at from the other point of view . . . that those who did contribute should be listed separately, as they deserve to be. I see no reason why a person who does not wish to contribute to a fund of any kind should do so if he does not wish to do so, but on the other hand, neither is one assured. So I think that he should get credit for contributing when he didn't.

There is another point about this for which I am also very strong; the flowers should receive individual acknowledgment. That is the one making the acknowledgment should write a note to each contributor. This is the polite thing to do, the gracious and appreciative thing. The same thing is true of any collection made in this group way.

2. It is not proper to send printed cards of acknowledgment, either of flowers or of letters of condolence. We should write notes of acknowledgment. They needn't be long, but they should be written and written with sincere appreciation. Of course, people in public life who receive thousands of messages under circumstances of this kind, naturally have to send engraved acknowledgements . . . but most of us don't have this to worry about. And these messages are ENGRAVED, never printed.

Best Man

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A claims that his brother should have been the best man. The brother is 24 years old. They have the highest respect for each other, but never went in each other's company. B claims that the brother had the right to ask his best friend to be his best man. They have been inseparable pals for 18 years.

It was his parents' wish that the brother be his best man.

Will you please give us your opinion? L. E. O.

It is indeed the customary thing for the groom to invite his brother to be his best man, and I can well understand that if he doesn't, there would naturally be great disappointment, especially in the groom's family.

Household Hints

If a little vinegar is combed in the hair for a few moments, it will be found to make the hair curl.

Frequently a coating of soap will form on the inside of the electric washer. Steel wool will remove this coating with no trouble at all.

The odor of gasoline can be removed from clothing by first hanging the frock out in the sun and wind for two hours and then bringing it in and hanging it where it will get a draught of warm air for a while. Warm air will frequently do much more good than its open-air treatment.

PROPERTY OWNERS, RENTING AGENTS

In times like these you can't afford to ignore half of the prospective renters and buyers in Pittsburgh. You can't afford to "pass up" the readers of the SUN-TELEGRAPH if you have property to sell or rent.

CALL GRANT 5400

and place your ads in the Sun-Telegraph. It's the only way you can reach the hundreds of thousands who read the SUN-TELEGRAPH exclusively . . . Daily and Sunday. Face the facts: Times Have Changed in Pittsburgh . . . NOW It's the SUN-TELEGRAPH for Want-Ad RESULTS!

Balchen, Blanche Calloway, Tibbett, Mystic Chandu, Al Smith on WCAE

Bernt Balchen, adventurer and chief pilot with Admiral Richard E. Byrd in his flights to the South Pole and across the Atlantic Ocean, appears as guest speaker with the Gypsies on WCAE tonight at 9 o'clock.

Balchen, now working with the proposed Ellsworth expedition to the South Pole, is an American of Norwegian birth, and on the program speaks directly to his fellow Norwegian-Americans. The hour of the broadcast, 9 p.m., is May 17 in Norway, and marks the gala Independence Day celebration in that country. In tribute, the musical portion of the program is comprised of a group of compositions by Norway's great composer, Edvard Grieg.

Bernt Balchen

Thrills and spookiness galore mark the new five-night-a-week serial of mystery and magic, "Chandu the Magician," which opens on WCAE tonight at 7:15, sponsored by the Beech-Nut Packing Company. The story, replete with romance and adventure, depicts the powers of the Orient and of Evil, and is laid in Beverly Hills and India. A feature of the entertainment is lessons in magic, woven adroitly into the plot.

Program Pointers

Judge Sara M. Soffel, of Juvenile Court, speaks on KDKA today at 3:30 in behalf of the Allegheny Council Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion. Mrs. Frank Baird, of Oakmont, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Walter Gable, pianist, also are heard . . . The last of the current series of broadcasts featuring Guy Lombardo and his orchestra with Burns and Allen is heard on WJAS tonight at 10. Lombardo with his orchestra and the two clever funsters, is scheduled for a personal appearance here this summer . . . Alex Roy, one of the finalists in the Paul Whiteman auditions, presents a 15-minute recital from KQV at 8:15.

Judge Soffel

Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, of New York, speaks over a nation-wide NBC network including WCAE tonight at 10:30. His subject is "A Financial Program for the Present Crisis."

A new series, featuring Irving Kaufman, versatile baritone and mimic; Willard Amison, tenor, and Roger White's Orchestra, has its premiere during the "Bath Club" broadcast tonight at 8 on WJAS.

The Carnegie Museum educational talk, formerly heard at 7:15 on WCAE, moves to 6:45, beginning tonight. W. R. Sweadner talks on "Insects as Surgeons" at this time.

Fabulous riches and disaster combine to make the story of a "hoodooed" silver mine, dramatized during the Death Valley Days program on KDKA at 8:30.

Blanche Calloway, sister of Cab Calloway, who is making a personal appearance in Pittsburgh this week, presents a program of songs from WCAE at 8.

Two international broadcasts from England are heard over WJAS today. At 4:20, W. H. Davies, distinguished poet and author, tells the colorful story of his rise to literary success. A broadcast from Covent Garden, London, brings the third act of Wagner's "Siegfried" at 5, with Sir Thomas Beecham directing the orchestra.

Tribute is paid to Arkansas during the Parade of States program on WCAE at 9:30.

Fan Fare

Robert Johns, noted baritone appearing at Loew's Penn Theater this week and heard on WCAE in the Sun-Telegraph Nite Club of the Air tonight at 11, is a Pittsburgher . . . According to reports that dance hour on WCAE three times a week is to be augmented with a new 20-minute dramatic presentation . . . Mme. Nine Koshetz, Russian soprano on NBC, has a passion that understands three languages, Russian, French and English . . . Earle Sande, famous jockey, is as unconcerned in front of the microphone as he is saddling a horse.

Mr. Johns

Toscha Seidel was called upon recently to give testimony as to the authenticity of a supposed Stradivarius valued at more than $30,000. It was labeled and dated 1742. He didn't even need to play the "Strad" to discover that something was wrong. Antonio Stradivari died in 1737.

Kate Smith wears eyeglasses when she is broadcasting.

A New Castle fan writes with a Big Boost for Hal Kemp, comparing him with the finest in the country.

Loew's Penn Stars In Nite Club

Charles (Slim) Timlin, famous comedian of stage and screen, and Robert Johns, well-known Pittsburgh baritone, who are appearing at Loew's Penn Theater this week, are featured in the Sun-Telegraph Nite Club on WCAE tonight at 11 o'clock. Lois Miller, popular singing organist at the Penn, with a group of request numbers, and David Levin's orchestra also are heard.

A delightful kiddies' program, featuring talented Pittsburgh youngsters, is presented during the Sun-Telegraph Family broadcast from WCAE today at 4:45.

The "Girl with the Sweetest Voice" goes on the air from WCAE with important Sun-Telegraph announcements today at 7:07 p. m.

The latest developments in the news of the day is flashed to WCAE listeners from the Sun-Telegraph editorial rooms by Louis L. Kaufman, Globe-Trotter of the Sun-Telegraph and Hearst Metrotone News, at 8:05 a. m., 12:15 p. m., 2:30 p. m. and 6:30 p. m.

Walter Winchell ON BROADWAY

A Columnist Who Can't Get a Sec'y to Afford Him, Jots a Few Notes to Himself, the Gigolo

Dear Diary: The most carefully guarded secret of the Beer Parade: the photostatic enlargement of the original New Salem (Ill.) quart license issued to Abraham Lincoln in the early 1850's for the operation of a dram shop, was rejected by Jimmy Walker because it might tend to overshadow the taxation phase of the procession. The enlargement will be placed on display at the Paris Central. But it that isn't an argument for beer, what is? Or is it all too profound for you so early in the morning. Gilda Gray wriggled in to say hello to lunch with her Mon. as she is leaving for Hollywood the next day to return to the screamies. I know you've set up a time for him to look at this invention, and point out her vocal cords, your neck to be there. Now don't go back on me by not having your neck. Odette Myrtil called a few hrs. before the Europa sailed. She said Au revoir and promised to deliver that message to Zelli in Paree. Did you know that Barbara Hutton the (5-million) heiress played the part of The Spirit of Christmas at the Judson Benefit while two body guards were secreted 10 feet away?

Frances Mercedes called to avoid me for forgetting her dinner party. But there's a wire signed by all her guests thanking me. The names on it are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Tunney, Mary Hay, David Bath, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hoff, Countess Irene Sky and Charles Rayner. Russell Patterson called and wants you to come to a rehearsal of some of his paintings. Charles Moskowitz, the Loew chief, called to say his sharpshooter has taken pictures of you and Abe Lyman on the roller-coasters at Palisades Park. Did I tell you I found one of the Palisades Park hot dogs in your pocket? With plenty of mustard on it, too. Must I also be your valet?

Phone George White. Also Louis Sobol. Sid Silverman says that crooners are lucky: they can keep the wolf from the door just by crooning to the wolf. Arthur Lippman, the versifier, offers his simile: As disdainful as a trolley car conductor to whom you have handed five pennies. Belle Baker wants you up for dinner. If you can't make it, may I go instead? Let me quote the letter from Russell Crouse, the Theater Guild's public relative: So I was in your office with an ace in my trouser cuff, was I? Well that was Sunday and that's the day I didn't even wear my trousers. And besides it wasn't in your office as that's the last place I'd ever look for you because you're always hanging around backstage at the Ziegfeld show. Don't you ever get discouraged? Anyway, my good fellow, if you are my good fellow, you've got it all mixed up. Things have changed since you were Rosaline the pasteboards around a couple of yrs. ago. It was the Boston Red Sox who had the losing streak. John Peter Toohey has sworn off poker and we can't even get him near the green baize by offering cash bonuses. Howard Benedict hasn't lost anything but his youth and that wouldn't have lasted forever anyway. What's more you had the date and the place wrong. We play in Central Park, the third tee from the south entrance. Outside of that your story was O. K. only it wasn't an ace of hearts I had in my trouser cuff. It was an ace of clubs. Love but no kisses.

I think it's a shame that the socially ex-elevated Daphne Marshall, who is now the happy Mrs. Eugene Campbell, should insist that her first shackle, Walter, remain in Alimony Jail until he pays her $1,250. Walter is the society reporter who scribbles under the tag of "Tony Mayfair." At any rate, Gene Bowen and Stanwood Menken's lad Arthur are organizing the Walter Marshall Gates Alias Society and a widely-publicized benefit will be held in a Times Sq. theater to raise the back alimony. Why don't you suggest that Mrs. Campbell be assigned to the box-office to sell the tickets? I told Gene and Arthur that you would open your column to the cause. Who knows but what you may be in the same spot yourself one of the days. I always thought I'd like to marry a columnist. There's a shine from Carl De Vilbiss. As busy as a hen in the her first egg. Autograph-hunters were besieging Irving Berlin and Harry Richman in front of Lindy's yesterday afternoon when 250-lb. Tess (Aunt Jemima) Carter appeared and shouted: "Don't you want mine? I'm Miss Green." Mrs. Kenneth Park Ave. Patterson will sponsor Meher Baba the Eastern mystic who hasn't spoken a word in 7 yrs. Now there's a fellow who'll get a lot of matrimonial offers whether he can cook or not. He arrives May 15th. Your

Rum-Running Picture Is Rushed

By HARRISON CARROLL

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—Many a Hollywood producer is casting a jealous eye on the box office receipts of "Scarface," so-called last of the gang films.

In the inevitable scramble for substitutes, Universal is secretly and ruthlessly preparing a story with a crime-loner hero. To overcome censorship objections they will show the final triumph of the law with the rum-runner either killed or imprisoned.

Tom Reed, who recently completed Radio Patrol for Universal, is doing the story an original and Edward Cahn will direct. If the part fits Lew Ayres, he may do it, which makes the screen's story now lined up for him.

Orders are to rush the idea into production form.

They tell it that Al Jolson's fancy new yachting cap and coat are relegated to the moth balls.

It seems Al went on a friend's boat to Catalina Island and, resplendent in his new outfit, was paraded by the dock where the Catalina Company's steamship Avalon was taking on passengers.

A woman and a little boy were standing on the dock.

"Mama," said the little boy, pointing to Al, "get me a suit like that!"

The mama, a stout Jewish lady, beamed on Al.

AND SO TO GOSSIP

Fight fans who always number many Hollywood celebrities, were quick to appreciate the drama of the occasion when James Cagney arrived at the stadium the other evening with Lee Tracy. It was Tracy who replaced Jimmie when the sorrel-topped actor walked out on the leading role in "Blessed Event." . . . These same stadium fans put more than 300 signatures on a greeting poster to be sent to Joe E. Brown in the hospital. . . . Anna May Wong's sister will probably be one of the three Oriental actresses to go to Alaska with M. G. M.'s "Eskimo" company.

Capt. Peter Fleuchen, author of the book and a great bearded fellow was asked which was the coldest month up there.

"Well," he said mildly, "we seldom had a dog freeze before December."

W. S. Van Dyke, who'll direct the expedition, has picked out 20 books to read during the long Northern nights. Heading the list is "The Three Musketeers."

That vaguely spoken of ranch of Clara Bow's actually covers 300,000 acres. The house where she and Rex Bell live is 14 miles from Nipton, Cal., and seven miles from Searchlight. Nev. Clara's property begins just out of Nipton. The red-headed star has a swimming pool near the ranch-house. These days she is doing her own cooking.

INDIAN GIRL FIND

Will Rogers will be leaving here soon to go to the Democratic convention, but will be back for the Olympic Games.

Another traveler will be Janet Reiss who is slated for a personal appearance tour of the Middle-West.

Universal has taken a screen test of Jacqueline Marmon, a Pasadena Indian girl for the chief feminine role in "Laughing Boy." She was tracked in the Indian school at Flagstaff when Scenarist John Huston discovered her. Junior Laemmle likes her test so well that he now may decide to film the picture with an entire Indian cast. . . . This wise old Hollywood has a soft streak beneath its sophistication. Today I saw six people at M. G. M. trying to rescue a baby sparrow which had fallen out of a nest and was teetering on unfixed legs in the path of possible destruction.

Two of Lionel Barrymore's stage cronies will work with him in "Public Life," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's contribution to the cycle of political stories. They are William Collier, Sr. and William Morris, who'll be seen in the film as a newspaper editor and as a Senator. Working on the same lot in "Red Headed Woman" will be Morris' son, Chester.

Constance Bennett is scheduled to start at Warners on the final picture under her sensational contract. As printed here before, it's called "Two Against the World." Jerry Horwin and Marion Dix are the authors.

New members of the cast are Grant Mitchell, H. B. Warner, Mae Robson and Hale Hamilton. Connie's two leading men will be Neil Hamilton and Allen Vincent. Archie Mayo will direct.

Thunder

Leo Carrillo to Play In 'Racetrack'

Leo Carrillo, whose performances this season on the screen in the legitimate theater and on the vaudeville stage, if put end to end, would look like the average actor's lifetime record, will be seen in another starring role this summer. According to an announcement made by Sono Art-World Wide, "Racetrack," produced by James Cruze and starring the popular stage and screen player, will be nationally released June 5.

Screen Comedienne In Stage Show

Edna May Oliver, RKO comedienne, has arrived in New York from Hollywood, where she completed her latest RKO role with Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsley in "Hold 'Em Jail." Miss Oliver has been granted a three weeks' leave of absence from the RKO studios to play her original stage role of Pauline Hawks in Florenz Ziegfeld's revival of "Show Boat."

Tonight and all through the week the Nixon will go Gilbert and Sullivan, the opening attraction to be "The Trial By Jury" and "Pinafore," the latter to give us a new glimpse of a former townslady, Fay Templeton, who lived here during several years of her retirement from the stage. This program will continue through Thursday, to be followed by "The Mikado" Friday night and Saturday matinee and "Pirates of Penzance" Saturday night. Other artists in the company include William Danforth, Herbert Waterous, Howard Marsh, Hizi Koyke and Vera Ross.

The Alvin will have no road attraction this week until Saturday, when there will be afternoon and evening performances of the Friars Frolic, coming for one day only. Among the entertainers will be Eddie Leonard, the famous minstrel, and his son, Eddie Jr., who recently made his professional debut. Georgie Price, Jans and Whalen, Walter C. Kelly, the Rooneys, Pat and Pat III, Harry Hershfield, cartoonist, columnist and wit, Vaughn Comfort, premier interlocutor of minstrelsy, Neil Golden and his entertainers from station WOR and many others, including singers, dancers and comedians, and the Friars Quartet.

For the first time since her stock days, Katharine Cornell played a Sunday engagement in Chicago yesterday. Because the regular engagement of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" could not be extended, and many who had sought lower-priced seats were unable to obtain them, the huge Civic Opera House, seating 4,000, was obtained for a Sunday matinee, the one level admission price being $1, first come first served. The house was let without cost and Miss Cornell and her company worked without pay, the proceeds being donated to a fund for sick school teachers.

"Cynara," one of the successes of the New York stage season, will be adapted for the screen by Lois Weber, first woman film director, who has been in retirement on a California ranch for four years.

H. B. Franklin, president of the RKO theater group, has authorized all managers to delete any material from stage acts or screen offerings that may prove offensive to audiences. . . . King Baggott, veteran screenite, has been added to the cast of the coming Constance Bennett picture, "The Truth About Hollywood." . . . The world premiere of the latest Edward G. Robinson picture, "Two Seconds," will take place in New York on Wednesday. . . . Thursday, May 19, is the date assigned by Flo Ziegfeld for the opening of his revival of "Show Boat" in his Casino Theater, New York, formerly the Earl Carroll. . . . Gloria Swanson, now living in England, will make a picture there, tentatively titled "Perfect Understanding," the subject being dramatic.

BITS OF LIFE

All in a Day

BY MARK HELLINGER

The Underlying Reason

UP IN the Eighties, two policemen strolled along Fifth avenue early the other morning. They rounded a corner and came upon an elderly man who was cleaning the sidewalk in front of a large, private house.

"Morning, Mr. Van Jones," said one patrolman.

The old man nodded affably.

"Good morning, sir," he returned.

The two officers walked on. As soon as they were out of earshot, the first one spoke savagely.

"That's the kind of guy," he muttered, "that makes the depression what it is today. Did you see him cleaning the sidewalk himself? How do you like a guy like that?"

"I don't get you," tossed in the second officer. "What's wrong about a guy cleanin' his sidewalk? Is that a crime now?"

"Don't get smart, Mac. It don't become you. Didn't you hear me call him by name? That old guy is Van Jones himself. He owns that big house and he's got millions of bucks. But he's so cheap that he won't hire nobody to help him out."

"I tell you again, Mac, that that's what brings on a depression like this. He can afford to hire not one guy to help him—but 20. But what does he do? Lives alone, and does all the work."

Back in that large, private home Mr. Van Jones was calling a number. And while he's getting it let's look into his life for a few moments.

When this man was ushered into the world some 60 years before, the Van Jones name already meant a great deal in the community. Aside from the fact that the good, old Van Joneses had been one of the families that actually came over on the Mayflower, the name meant plenty in a business way. A fine woolen business had been established away back, and it had been handed down through the generations.

Thus, by the time our subject made his appearance on the scene, he had a natural heritage of social background and, more important—financial solidity. His youth had all the trimmings of the rich. There were private tutors and private schools and private bank accounts. He was taught very definitely that a Van Jones should always enjoy everything of the best.

In due time, which is time enough, the young man was married. No pretty chorine or star of the stage for him. No, sir—not in his family. With the full approval of his parents he took unto himself a Van Astorbilt.

After the honeymoon that lasted for more than a year in foreign countries Mr. and Mrs. Van Jones returned to New York. They had their estate near Greenwich, Conn., but it was necessary to have a town house. More than necessary. For a Van Jones it was compulsory.

They searched and their agents searched. And they finally came upon that home in the Eighties that the two policemen passed so early in the story. The moment they saw the place both Mr. and Mrs. Van Jones knew that that was what they wanted. It suited their needs exactly, and it was one of the showplaces of the day. It was perfect, no less.

But as with all things that seem perfect on the surface, there was a string attached. The house was a portion of an estate, and the will declared that the property could not be sold. It could be leased, but the lease would have to be for a term of 99 years. And the rental would have to be $2,000 a month. No more and no less.

Mr. Van Jones did everything possible to buy the place. He pleaded. He begged. He offered fantastic figures. But to no avail. He could not budge the trustees of the estate. So, in the end, he took the only way out. He rented the home he wanted for a term of 99 years at a monthly rental of $2,000.

The money meant nothing to him. When he was around 35 years of age his father died and left him in control of the woolen business that had flourished for so many years.

Had things remained as they were, of course, there would be no story such as this in my space today.

The man began to neglect his business. That was all very well for a long period because, regardless of what he did, the name and reputation were so strong that things ran themselves. But suddenly, from out of nowhere, the depression swooped down. And Van Jones found himself in the very middle of the Wall street crash.

Just about a year ago Mr. Van Jones appeared before one of the attorneys who controlled the lease of the house in which he lived.

"Mr. Bierbauer," he asserted calmly, "I have lost everything I ever owned. In my present condition, the future looks absolutely hopeless. I tell you very frankly that, even if you reduced my rent from $2,000 to $200, there isn't the slightest chance that I would be able to pay it."

He smiled.

"I am a proud man, Mr. Bierbauer," he went on. "I tell you these things only because I have to. If it is at all possible, I would like to keep the facts as quiet as possible. And meanwhile, I would like to remain in my house as the caretaker.

"Until you rent the place, I want very much to act in that capacity. You must employ someone and I ask no salary. I have no servants and I live alone. Will you permit me to be the caretaker in my own home?"

The trustees talked it over the following day. They agreed that it would be useless to sue Van Jones. They also felt sorry for the man. They decided to grant his wish. And since the house calls for a $2,000 rental, it has had no new tenant since.

We return now to Van Jones as he talks upon the phone.

"You say, Mr. Bierbauer, that there is nothing new and that I can remain as caretaker? Thank you very much, sir. You have been most kind."

And he hung up. . . .

* * *

The first one shook his head in very evident disbelief.

"Nothing like it," he returned. "He's just a miser. It's guys like him that bring on depression."

VIOLINIST BACK FROM EUROPE

After six years study in Europe, John S. Bartoletti, of 7403 Race street, returned to his parents' home yesterday an accomplished concert violinist prepared to win recognition in this country.

Without friends on the Continent and with only a small sum of money, Bartoletti set out alone at 16 for Europe. He went to the Academy of Music in Vienna later going to Pisek in Czechoslovakia where he played for Prof. Ot Sevcik, a prominent musician, who undertook to teach him and refused payment. Bartoletti later studied interpretation of music under Prof. Carl Flesh of Berlin and made a concert tour of Norway.

Bartoletti plans to spend the summer in Pittsburgh preparing for the fall concert season. He learned to play the violin as a child. His father, Ralph Bartoletti, is also a musician.

Lindy Crime Blamed On Spiritual Collapse

The kidnaping and murder of the Lindbergh baby was cited as one of the major signs of a spiritual collapse in America by the Rev. John H. Brunner in his sermon last night in the auditorium of the Salvation Army.

He declared the present day prevalence of gang crime and other iniquities were comparable to conditions in the dark ages.

1 KILLED, DOZEN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Unidentified Resident of Shantytown Dies in Fall From Relief Work Truck

Jolted from one of the Father Cox Relief fund trucks late yesterday at River avenue and Ninth Street Bridge, a man known only as "John," a resident at Father Cox's Shantytown, died in Allegheny General Hospital last night.

Police said the man was riding on a relief truck driven by Michael Lennerts, of Option, who was moving his furniture to 840 East Ohio street.

Mrs. Ida Harper, 26, and Elsie Pelvel, 30, of 434 Edgemont street; Harry Pelvel, Mrs. Pelvel and Ruth Pelvel, 4, all of 417 Eureka street; Ernest Fallgreen, 31, Mrs. Marie Fallgreen, 24, both of 224 Tothman street, and Mrs. Loretto Knorr, 34, of 2232 Spring street, were injured in an automobile collision at Knox and Bausman streets.

TWO IN HOSPITAL

The Pelvels and Mrs. Harper were riding in a car driven by Harry Pelvel, police said, which collided with a machine driven by Ernest Meyers, of Millvale. The others were riding with Meyers who was not injured. Except for Mrs. Harper and Elsie Pelvel, who were detained at South Side Hospital, the injured were taken to their homes.

William Tillett, of 193 Bausman street, was in Allegheny General Hospital with serious injuries, received when a car driven by Calvin W. Marshall, of Mt. Oliver, in which he was riding, collided with a machine driven by James Dunn, of 2911 Glasgow street, at Sandusky and North Canal streets.

Eva Zetty, 62, of South Brownsville, was in St. Joseph's Hospital with head injuries, received, police said, when an automobile in which she was a passenger collided with a car driven by Mrs. Martha Smith, of Barberton, O., at Carson and South Brady streets.

BURIED FROM AUTO

Mrs. Mary Gielardocci, 26, of Carnegie, was in a serious condition in Westmoreland Hospital following an accident near Blairsville which occurred when her husband, Tullio, stooped to tie his shoe without stopping the car, police reported. She was thrown through the windshield as the machine struck a pole. Their three small children were unhurt.

Patrolman Stephen Boyle, attached to the Oakland police scout car, escaped uninjured when the steering gear broke and the car crashed into a pole at Center avenue and Neville street, according to a police report.

Robert Flynn, of 87 Eureka street, was in St. Francis Hospital with serious injuries, received, police said, when he lost control of his machine and it crashed into a parked car in Brereton street.

ARTIST'S DOLLS SHOWN HERE

By PENELOPE REDD

The Greeks and the Turks, the Argentines and the Egyptians, are Elizabeth Ardenized in a collection of 30 dolls now exhibited at Kaufmann's. Miss Arden's collection represents the 79 countries and colonies that are Arden-conscious. The dolls were made in Paris by Jeanne Lebedeff, one of the Polish artists, whose innovations have elevated designing dolls to an art. About 1915, Polish artists in Paris adapted their native folk habit of making rag dolls into museums as legitimate objects of art.

Jeanne Lebedeff is at once sculptor and decorative artist. Every figure has individual characteristics running the gamut from the retiring Egyptian woman, whose enshrouding black costume haremizes her, to the candid Irish colleen. Not costume alone, but race and nation are expressed in facial characteristics and gestures.

Three nationalities are delightfully animated by young women in native costumes, Rita Gradini representing the Italian costume of Venice, Sonia Allanmeyer for Sweden, and Estela Jardin for Spain. These young women have traveled throughout the countries represented by the dolls as Elizabeth Arden's representatives and they have advised on beauty problems in all the 30 languages at their disposal. The plan for exhibiting dolls and providing information is in reality a modernized version of the eighteenth century French custom of sending dolls to the provinces and to foreign courts to demonstrate the latest fashions both in garments and in head dresses. England did likewise for the American colonies. The exhibition of Elizabeth Arden's dolls and her helpful young women will be at Kaufmann's through the week.

TEAR GAS GUARD FOR WINDOWS

Lloyd Curtiss, an engineer of the Federal Laboratories here, today was experimenting on a mechanical guard designed to prevent repetitions of the Lindbergh kidnaping. The guard, attached to a window, discharges a burst of tear gas when the window is raised high enough to permit a man to crawl in.

The gas is the same police use to quell riots and disperse mobs. The device originally was developed to protect the housewife from too ambitious salesmen and beggars.

The mechanical guard is about the size of a pint milk bottle, in a sealed metal case, inclosing the tear gas cartridge to which a chain is attached. When pressure is put on the chain the cartridge is shot off.

5-BILLION LOAN GOAL OF GROUP IN HOUSE

Advocates of Prosperity Loan Would Reject Hoover Substitute as Inadequate

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—A bond issue of $5,000,000,000 to create jobs today became the goal of a bipartisan House group which has launched a drive to prevent adjournment of Congress until action is taken to relieve the unemployment situation.

Brushing aside the compromise proposal of President Hoover and the bond issue plan of Senator Robinson (Dem.), of Arkansas, as insufficient, the House forces announced they will conduct their fight independently.

While the program is still in a formative stage, leaders in the House movement united in declaring a huge bond issue must be the cornerstone of their plan.

JOBS GREATEST NEED

Emergency measures also will be incorporated for relief of the needy, but it was made plain the general scheme contemplates the creation of jobs as the most effective way of relieving both city workers and agriculture. Representative Swing (Rep.), of California, said:

"A bond issue of $5,000,000,000 is the minimum which should be made the basis of the program.

"Chances are better now for the enactment of legislation for this bond issue than at any time during the session. There is a general realization that the path to prosperity is through the stimulation of employment, and all business and agriculture by a bond issue for public works."

The tentative plan embraces building of bridges, to be paid for by tolls; tunnels, public buildings to save rent for the government and similar projects.

LOANS TO STATES

Loans to states for financing of productive enterprises also will be proposed. Under this plan, the New York port of authority or the states of New York, California and others would be advanced funds for bridges, buildings and other works that would eventually pay for themselves.

Building of huge hydro-electric projects, such as Boulder Canyon Dam, which is expected to pay for itself, also may be included.

The bipartisan group was encouraged by the indorsement given the effort to relieve unemployment by Representative Rainey, of Illinois, Democratic House leader.

Representative Black (Dem.), of New York, who recently introduced a bill for a $5,000,000,000 bond issue based upon searching investigation by economists and businessmen, said he is assured of a hearing by the Ways and Means Committee.

He plans to present authorities of national reputation to sustain his contention that by this method only can prosperity be re-established.

Preparing Tulip Show for 90,000 Expected Guests

TULIP SHOW ON AT EVANS CITY

Thousands of persons are expected to attend the third annual tulip show this week at Evans City. R. F. Elliott, president of the Elliott Nursery Company, in discussing the show, which it sponsors, explained:

"An entire new show is planned every year. Most of the bulbs are imported from Holland just for the show."

Coe Van Zyverden, bulb expert, of Hilligom, Holland, is already planning the show for 1933. He said:

"Tulip bulbs flower better in America than they do in Holland. There are about 25 varieties in the show, including two varieties which are not named and cannot be purchased at any price. The people who attend the show judge the tulips by the color. Red is the most popular."

The show has 18,000 tulips in the formal garden and 56,000 in the show. It will close next Sunday night.

Chicago Labor Urges Five-Billion Job Loan

CHICAGO, May 16.—(AP.)—The Chicago Federation of Labor adopted three resolutions last night calling on the federal government to provide a $5,000,000,000 bond issue for public works and opposing any plan of government economy that would stop building construction projects.

Some Theories To Which 'Bugs' Won't Subscribe

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

You can't make us believe that the way to economize in the Navy is to build 'em and junk 'em.

You can't convince us that we can fight the next war without an army.

We will never subscribe to the fanatical theory that a glass of beer is a mocker and pretzels are raging.

We will never concede that a 100 per cent administration means 90 per cent wasted and the other 10 per cent spent in investigations.

No one can explain to us why college boys graduate in square hats if something hasn't happened to their heads.

We are one of the millions who refuse to cater to the proposition that the finer points of the Republican full dinner pail can only be appreciated by going on diet.

And if that ain't enough nevers for today we will think up some more tomorrow.

JOB BOND PLAN BACKED IN WEST

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, without a dissenting vote, memorialized Congress to pass a $5,000,000,000 bond issue for the construction of needed public works to meet the unemployment situation. Similar action was taken by the Southern California Voters' Association.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—In the face of rapidly increasing relief needs, Frank C. McDonald, president of the State Building Trades Council; A. A. Rosenshine, acting chairman of the State Social Welfare Board, among others, petitioned Congress to pass a $5,000,000,000 prosperity loan for building necessary public improvements.

MODESTO, Cal., May 16.—(INS.)—The proposed federal $5,000,000,000 prosperity bond issue has been unanimously indorsed here at the state convention of the Disabled Veterans of the World War.

The veterans recommended that the revenue to retire the bonds be gained from legalized sale of beer.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 16.
To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

The big news in the papers yesterday was the "beer parades" held over the country. New York, the originator of this unique entertainment, had 100,000 in line. Then there was 500,000 sitting in "speak naturallys" that was drinking beer and watching humorously the 100,000 perspiring and marching. Washington, D. C., had one. Theirs was an "inaugural parade." They were inaugurating 23 new congressional places. Chicago broke the record, they only had one man in their "beer parade." It was learned afterward he was a stranger in the city. Marching for beer there is exactly like taking an umbrella with you in bathing. Yours, WILL ROGERS.

SUSPECT FACES SLAYING QUIZ

David Muir, 38, of Jacksonia street, was to be questioned today by Coroner W. J. McGregor in connection with the killing Saturday of Lawrence O'Malley, proprietor of an alleged speakeasy in Eloise street.

Muir, according to homicide detectives, admitted shooting O'Malley, but insisted he fired in self defense. Muir said O'Malley attacked him with a carving knife.

In a raid after the shooting, police said they confiscated moonshine and beer, and arrested George Lightner, 24, of 309 Jacksonia street, and Mike Piccano, 21, of 614 Jacksonia street, as witnesses.

CONGRESSMEN PLEDGE AID TO DRIVE

Hearst Plan for Relief In Jobless Crisis Supported By West Penn Members

The unemployment crisis must be met with necessary public works through a $5,000,000,000 prosperity loan, Congress was informed in petitions sent today by the Pennsylvania Osteopathic Association's resolutions committee and the National Urban League.

The osteopaths' memorial to Congress, submitted by Dr. Frank Goehring and Dr. Walter V. Spill, passed the committee during its meeting Saturday in the William Penn Hotel.

The Urban League, representing hundreds of thousands of Negroes in the nation, pointed out in its memorial that with 8,000,000 unemployed in the country, the suffering from hunger and distress must be met on a national scale.

WORK CRISIS CITED

Eugene Kinckle Jones, national executive secretary of the organization, presented the resolution at a meeting of the executive board in the Y. M. C. A., Center avenue and Francis street. It follows:

"Resolved, That the secretaries of the National Urban League from 43 American cities are conscious of the crisis in millions of American homes due to the estimated unemployment of 8,000,000 men, that women and children are suffering from hunger, and that organized relief agencies are threatened with breakdown as funds become exhausted.

"Be it resolved, that the National Urban League beg the Congress of the United States to pass a $5,000,000,000 prosperity bond issue to provide work and at the same time construct needed public improvements."

MUST PROVIDE WORK

From Washington came statements of Allegheny County and other Western Pennsylvania Congressmen indorsing the proposed bonds.

Representative Howard Stull, of Cambria County, said:

"I am a new member of Congress, but it seems that we should do something constructive to aid our unemployed, and it seems to me Mr. Hearst has struck upon a most effective plan. This or some other program should be authorized before we adjourn.

"The most recent figures of unemployment from Western Pennsylvania (in January over 200,000 idle) have convinced me that this Congress must put people to work if business is to return."

SEES BUSINESS BOOM

Representative Clyde Kelly stated that if adopted, the Hearst plan would mean $50,000,000,000 of new business transactions and cause an upward trend of both prices and sales. He said:

"I have been enthusiastically in favor of the plan since it was first conceived."

Congressman Edmund F. Erk said Congress was beginning to realize that adoption of the plan is necessary to the return of prosperity and Congressman Harry Estep, pointing out that many municipalities and states are at the end of their resources, asserted the prosperity bond was one way of solving the problem.

MORE SEEK AID

With social welfare executives predicting the end of county and state relief funds by August, leaving only the city bond issues, limited to city use, to combat destitution, the Emergency Relief Association report for the past week stated that during that period 548 new families in the city sought help, while 403 county families were added to the rolls, a total of 951. During the previous week, the total new families seeking aid numbered 710.

Most of these social workers declare, had help cut off with the collapse of local relief stations or the termination of public work under the direction of the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

More than 190,000 were idle, March figures assert, in Allegheny County, with more than 1,000,000 in the state.

Taxation Favored For Public Works

The federal government alone has power to relieve present economic conditions and should tax incomes in the higher brackets for that purpose, Howard Y. Williams, executive secretary of the League for Independent Political Action, declared in an address in the North Side Unitarian Church yesterday. He said:

"Unemployment relief must come through creation of federal public works projects, financed by those with excessive incomes."

NORRIS WANTS GLOVER FIRED

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(AP).—Dismissal of W. Irving Glover as second assistant postmaster general was demanded in the Senate today by Senator Norris (Rep.), Nebraska, for his order to Missouri postmasters to "go out on the firing line" for President Hoover's re-election.

Norris asked for a repudiation of the official by President Hoover for his speech to the postmasters Saturday at Springfield, Mo. Norris said:

"If the President of the United States wants to retain the confidence of the patriotic people of the country, he will repudiate in the name of his administration these sentiments expressed by the second assistant postmaster general.

"He will not only repudiate them, but Mr. Glover himself will be a private citizens by nightfall."

Norris quoted from Glover's speech as reported in the press demanding the resignation of any postmaster who did not wish to go to work for re-election of the President.

Attorney R. H. Hay Dies on Ohio Visit

Funeral services for Attorney Robert Henry Hay, 72, who died yesterday while visiting his sister, Mrs. Stanton Ewing, East Liverpool, O., will be held tomorrow afternoon from his late residence, 328 South Home avenue, Avalon. He was born in Zelienople and was educated at the old Western University, now the University of Pittsburgh. Besides Mrs. Ewing, he leaves his widow, Mrs. Jeanne Eggers Hay, and a brother, A. B. Hay.

Nursing Education Institute Scheduled

The Pennsylvania League of Nursing Education will hold an institute in the St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing May 23 to May 27. Problems of the nursing profession, particularly unemployment, will be discussed. Among the speakers will be May Kennedy, director of psychiatric nursing at the Chicago State Hospital, Chicago; Florence M. Teagarden, professor of psychology at the University of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. Theodosia Crosse, of Chicago.

RUM, TAXES UP AT TRADE MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, May 16.—(AP).—A bleary-eyed world with a bandaged head is the subject for clinical scrutiny of leading doctors of business gathered here for the opening of the annual session of the United States Chamber of Commerce tomorrow.

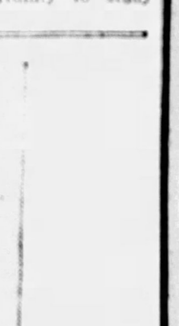
Every economic, commercial, industrial and financial ache complained of was listed for examination. Among suggested contributory causes of disorder, two, taxation and prohibition, are drawing much informal discussion.

The St. Louis and San Francisco chambers of commerce are pledged to bring the tax issue up for discussion. It is expected to lead to the prohibition question which the San Francisco Chamber declares should be a matter for study.

Among the vanguard of the 2,000 expected delegates was Silas H. Strawn, president of the United States Chamber, who arrived yesterday. He announced the revenue bill now before Congress would receive attention.

JEWS LAUNCH DRIVE SUNDAY

Four hundred men and women, comprising 100 teams in the Hebrew Institute campaign, will gather at breakfast next Sunday in the Young Women's Hebrew Association auditorium, Bellefield avenue, for the opening of the drive.



Mr. Glick

Charles J. Rosenbloom, general chairman, declared the drive to be the most determined effort ever made in this city on behalf of Jewish education. In the 100 teams are professional and businessmen of the city headed by Attorney David Glick and scores of socially prominent women led by Mrs. Sol Rosenbloom.

Mrs. Karl J. Kaufmann is executive secretary of the campaign and Leo Lehman is campaign treasurer.

Ben Avon Reviews Church Merger Plan

Proposals for a "federated church" in Ben Avon, composed of the congregations of the Presbyterian, United Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches, were referred back to individual congregations for consideration last night following a mass meeting in Ben Avon High School. The action was taken, according to J. J. Thompson, committee chairman, to give minority members more opportunity to study the plan.

PLAN TEACHING WITH TALKIES

CHICAGO, May 16 (INS)—An educational innovation the basis of which will be talking motion pictures for classroom work was announced today by Robert Maynard Hutchins, 33-year-old president of the University of Chicago.

Production will begin at the university in two weeks on a series of 20 talking pictures on the physical sciences. Next fall they will be tried out in freshman classrooms.

Lectures by noted professors are to be synchronized with the films and can be repeated when and as often as desired. Four years of study were required to perfect the new educational plan, according to President Hutchins, and under present plans the films will be sold to other colleges and educational groups.

The velocity of light, the heartbeat of a dog, the complete life of a plant and the excavation of a pharoah's tomb are some of the dramas of science which will be portrayed on the screen. Planets and stars will parade across the screen.

PARK PROBERS TO BE NAMED

A committee to investigate alleged unethical practices in the office of District Attorney Andrew T. Park probably will be appointed tomorrow or Wednesday by John G. Frazer, president of the Allegheny County Bar Association. At a meeting May 6, the bar association authorized Frazer to appoint a committee. His absence from the city last week delayed the appointment.

Another bar committee, appointed on orders of Common Pleas Court, to plan prosecution proceedings against a dozen attorneys accused of "ambulance chasing and shyster practices," is expected to meet early this week.

Hungarians at Pitt Arrange May Ball

Miss Madeline Grigassy, University of Pittsburgh co-ed, will be escorted by Dennis C. Kurjack, president of the Hungarian Students' Club, of the university, in the grand march of the club's "May Ball" Saturday night in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

Miss Grigassy

Two bands, one of which is a Hungarian-gypsy orchestra, will furnish the music. The club will be appropriately decorated. Proceeds of the dance will be turned over to the Hungarian Olympic Club, a fund established in the United States to finance the expenses of Hungarian athletes competing in the Olympic Games this summer.

NAME BRIDGE WINNERS

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Baldwin, of East Orange, N. J., won the international championship for North-South in the world bridge Olympic played April 1, and Lewis C. Frank and Robert Mayer, of Detroit, Mich., the East-West.

These and other winners of the international contract bridge pair championship in the Olympic were announced today by Ely Culbertson before the Culbertson national teachers' convention.

The Canadian national championship was won by North-South, Hamlin B. Hatch and J. E. Jacobson, of Toronto, and East-West, Mrs. A. T. Hawley and Mrs. E. R. Pelly, of Winnipeg.

The Olympic was conducted by the National Bridge Association when more than 30,000 bridge players throughout the world played the same hands selected for the test by Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson, Theodore Lightner and Waldemar Von Zedwitz, members of the bridge world team.

SYDNEY SHIFTS MONEY POLICY

SYDNEY, N. S. W., May 16—(AP)—Premier B. S. B. Stevens, of New South Wales, successor to the ousted J. T. Lang, fiery labor leader, today reversed the policy of his predecessor who had refused to repay to the commonwealth funds expended to meet defaulted interest on state bonds at New York and London.

The new Premier deposited in Sydney banks £70,000 ($2,569,000) of the £1,000,000 Lang had transferred to the Treasury March 13 to prevent attachment by the commonwealth government.

Stevens also reopened taxation offices which his predecessor had closed to thwart federal collectors armed with authority to seize receipts.

Former Premier Lang, who was dismissed Friday by Gov. Sir Philip Game, has gone to his farm outside the city.

A general election will be held in New South Wales and in Queensland June 11.

RUG SALE

in the History of Pittsburgh

$50,000 worth of antique and semi-antique Oriental Rugs going for $27,500—about one-third less than the lowest prices elsewhere for equal quality—at about present-day wholesale prices.

Every piece a hand-woven importation—not a "factory" made piece in the entire lot—yet the prices are about at the level of domestic, machine-made fabrics.

We can't tell you about the timely circumstance which made possible these amazing qualities and prices—it must suffice when we say we made a fortunate purchase, the advantages of which we are proud to offer our customers and friends.

. . at $ 7.50 This is an irresistible odd-lot group of mats and throws and covers and small rugs of Sarouk, Kirman, Lillihan, Hamadan and Chinese. Make your selection early, because they won't last long. Present-day values up to $18.50 but none worth less than twice the price.

. . at $10.50 Small rugs and short runners of Hamadan, Lillihan and Chinese. There are but 35 pieces in this group, but each one is a bargain, especially the 3' x 5' Hamadan and the 3' x 5' Chinese. Present-day values up to $24.50.

. . at $15.00 This group includes the very finest of Beloochistan, Bokara, Lillihan, Sarouk, and Hamadan small rugs selling currently for as much as $35.

. . at $21.50 Anatolians, Beloochistans, Mossuls, Hamadans and Lillihans make up this group of 3' x 6' rugs and runners up to 12' long. These pieces are selling for $32.50 and more in clearance sales, and represent present-day values up to $55.

. . at $37.50 Present-day values up to $125 are included in this group of Shiraz, Karabagh and Lillihan rugs from 4' x 7' to 5' x 7' 3" x 5' Sarouks and antique runners up to 15' long. Each and every piece in this group is an extraordinary bargain.

. . at $67.50 Serabend, Karaja, Shiraz, Lillihan, Hamadan and Kurd runners from 2' 8" to 3' wide and up to 17' long; 6' x 9' Chinese and Karabaghs and Killeys; 5' x 8' Bidjars and Hamadans; and a 4' x 6' Mehriban, are included in this group of present-day values up to $160.

. . at $97.50 An 11' x 15' Chinese; a 7' 10" x 10' 3" Kandahar; an 8' x 10' Chinese; a 9' x 12' Mahal; a 9' 3" x 12' 4" Mahal; and an 8' x 9' 3" Sparta make up this group of present-day values up to $300.

. . at $137.50 Another group of rare bargains in odd-size room rugs—present-day values up to $350—including a 9' x 13' Heriz; a 10' x 15' Serapi; a 10' x 14' Kandahar; a 9' x 11' Meshed; a 9' 8" square Arak; an 8' x 11' Heriz; a 12' square Chinese; and five 9' x 12' Chinese.

. . at $167.50 Never before have you been able to purchase such glorious rugs at such ridiculously low prices—present-day values up to $400 for only $167.50. This group includes 9' x 12' Ispahans, Sarouks, and Chinese, and one 14' x 15' Kandahar.

BUYER'S GUIDE AND BUSINESS REVIEW

TRADE SHOWING RESISTANCE TO NEW DECLINE

Consumption, However, Held Back by Workers' 'Fear'; Assurance of Jobs Urged

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service

NEW YORK, May 16.—Business, though still at the level of maximum depression, has been less a cause for near-term blueness than the speculative markets.

Recently sentiment has been a little worse than the facts.

Since March business as a whole has been exploring for bottom, and there have been signs somewhat inconclusive as to time of the approach to an equilibrium at a low level. Basic industries, the hardest hit, have recently shown resistance to further decline. Yet consumption, at this stage, lags behind, because of the widespread propagation of fear.

Mr. Rukeyser.

At this phase there is a large opportunity for constructive management in the large.

SHOULD SPUR FAITH

Instead of focusing attention solely on the unemployed, business and political management should think a little more about the 35,000,000 who are still gainfully employed. These will have more confidence to spend up to their present means provided they are given convincing assurance that the labor market in which they sell their services, has at length turned.

Ballyhoo will not be enough. The convincing evidence will consist of actual adding of new names to payrolls. This will reverse gloom psychology which has been occasioned by the fear of the worker that he might be the next one added to the ranks of the unemployed.

Until leaders recognize the fundamental fact that wealth is largely the creation of labor, and that enforced idleness, which wastes the precious work-power of millions of unemployed, is the cardinal economic sin, the country must expect only half measures.

PUBLIC WORKS VITAL

Recently outstanding Democrats, including financially and industrially minded experts, such as Owen D. Young, Bernard M. Baruch and Gerard Swope, have brought to a focus the wise campaign for constructive relief of unemployment through an acceleration of public works. Business generally has been hurt by the great decline in the construction industry, and basic relief must look to a revival of demand for capital goods.

In private corporations, like the Pennsylvania Railroad in its electrification project, will provide construction work well and good. They should be encouraged to do so. The idle, who have been suffering amid glutted markets, do not care whether they get jobs from private employers or from the government. To the extent that private employment needs to be supplemented, it is the part of a higher economy for the government to step into the breach, and give employment for useful, desirable, necessary—and of feasible—income producing or income saving public works.

The intimation that the President is still opposed to the issuance of bonds for this purpose is disappointing. The issue is too serious for any delay for face saving purposes.

Columbia Gas Reports Net of 43 Cents Per Share for Three Months

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

COLUMBIA GAS and Electric Corporation earned 43 cents a share for its common stock in the first quarter of the year. This compared with 64 cents a share in the corresponding three months of 1931.

Further progress was made in reducing indebtedness to banks and improving the current financial position.

Net profit of $6,481,070, reported for the first quarter, after deducting all charges, including depreciation, depletion, interest and earnings applicable to stocks of subsidiary companies, covered preferred dividend requirements of the company for an entire year. In the first quarter of 1931 net profit was $8,940,011.

Earnings for the 12 months ended March 31, 1932, amounted to $19,872,901, which was equivalent to $1.21 a share on the common stock. In the preceding 12 months, $24,498,798, or $1.59 a share was earned.

Indebtedness to Banks Reduced by $10,600,000

THE COMPLETION of the major part of Columbia's expansion program and also the policy of paying common dividends in convertible 5 per cent preference stock instead of cash, have permitted the company to make steady progress in cutting down indebtedness to banks in spite of the decline in earnings.

The balance sheet of March 31 shows that bank loans were reduced $7,000,000 during the quarter. Philip G. Gossler, president, states that further progress has been made since that time. On May 12 bank loans amounted to $33,000,000, making a total reduction of $10,000,000 since the beginning of the year. Cash on hand at this date amounted to about $11,000,000, according to Mr. Gossler.

Columbia Gas may be expected to materially reduce its bank loans by the end of the year, although progress is not likely to be as great during the dull summer months when earnings tend to decline.

* * *

Banking Affiliations Important at Present

THE ORGANIZATIONS' strong banking connections are an important consideration in its favor at the present time due to the impossibility of arranging long-term financing to refund the treasury for expenditures made in expanding the natural gas system to its position as the largest in the world. A substantial interest in Columbia is held by the United Corporation, which is dominated by the Morgan, Drexel, Bonbright group.

This affiliation insures the fact that Columbia will have adequate accommodations until it is either able to pay off its bank loans from earnings or to replace them through long-term financing when the bond market improves. The company has no near bond maturities of importance.

In March current assets amounted to $27,185,262 against current liabilities of $48,995,962. The elimination of the loans which will be merely a matter of time, will restore a proper ratio between current assets and liabilities.

Radiator's European Sales Hold Up Well

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—The European business of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Company continues to hold up well in comparison with the company's domestic business, C. M. Woolley, president, said today in a letter to stockholders. The company is getting a moderate profit from its foreign business, which has declined by a much smaller percentage than that of the company's domestic subsidiaries, he stated. The letter said that, while residential construction in terms of floor space for the first four months of the current year has declined by 8 per cent as compared with the same period of 1931, there continues every indication that with improved economic conditions, the demand for new buildings, especially residential, will shortly assert itself.

Goodyear Zeppelin Orders Blimp Dock

AYRES FAVORS NEW CREDIT POLICY

Cleveland Banker Calls Reserve Program Most Hopeful Step Yet Taken

CLEVELAND, May 16.—The Federal Reserve System has adopted an aggressive policy that is the most hopeful development in the history of this depression, according to Col. Leonard P. Ayres, vice president of the Cleveland Trust Company.

The Reserve Banks are buying government securities at the rate of $100,000,000 a week. The monies paid for these securities is deposited in member banks, which promptly use these funds to pay down their indebtedness at the Reserve banks. Already the process has gone so far that the New York banks are out of debt at the Federal, and the larger banks in the interior cities are rapidly moving into the same condition.

BANKS OUT OF DEBT

Col. Ayres states that in New York the process has gone farther than that. The banks are not only out of debt, but they have excess reserves in the form of unemployed funds. In these circumstances interest rates on deposits in New York have fallen so low that corporations are moving deposits from that city to interior banks. As the Reserve Banks continue their open market operations, as they term these purchases of securities, banks in general throughout the country will pay off their borrowings and accumulate excess reserves. These will be idle funds seeking employment.

Until recently nearly all member banks have been heavily in debt to the Reserve Banks. The history of banking since the war shows that under such circumstances banks will not readily extend credit unless impelled by abnormal conditions such as prevailed in the speculative period. They will, however, always seek to use idle funds for they must in order to meet expenses. This means that if the Reserve System adheres to its new policy, the banks will shortly be seeking safe investments, and looking for safe commercial loans.

DEPOSITS GAIN

The Federal Reserve System has inaugurated a period of credit expansion which is displacing the long process of contraction, and already bank deposits have begun to increase. Previous financial moves initiated at Washington have been defensive in nature. They included the National Credit Corporation, the Railroad Credit Corporation, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Glass-Steagall act. They were designed to prevent breakdowns. Now we have a measure that is an aggressive counter-attack, designed to combat the depression.

Col. Ayres declared that this is a powerful attack, for these open market purchases are the credit equivalents of gold imports.

REFRIGERATOR SALES GAIN

Westinghouse refrigerator sales, handled in Pittsburgh by Whitehill & Danforth, Inc., local distributor, show an increase of 78 per cent for the first quarter of 1932 over the same period of 1931.

This increase is attributed to an enlarged dealer organization and also to immediate public acceptance of the product.

Prices on the complete line of Westinghouse refrigerators have been materially reduced during the past six months, due to greatly increased production with absolutely no lowering of the quality of both the refrigerating units and cabinets. Instead, many new improvements have been added.

LOCAL BAKERY PRODUCTS ON EXHIBIT

Liberty Baking Meets Rigid Requirements of American Medical Food Committee

The Liberty Baking Company of this city has been asked to display several of its products at the American Medical Association Convention being held this week in New Orleans, La. These products, Liberty Delicious, Tea Table and Grade A. Guaranteed Milk Loaf, are part of an exhibit of products which have been favorably passed upon by the committee on foods of the American Medical Association, and which therefore carry the seal of acceptance.

This seal of acceptance is granted only to those products which meet the committee's standards for quality, production methods, advertising claims and nourishing value. Two years ago the American Medical Association, an organization of over 100,000 leading physicians of the United States, believing that the American public needed an authoritative and impartial guide in buying food, established the committee on foods and gave it permission to grant its seal of acceptance to those products which passed its rigid tests. Already, this seal has come to be recognized as a sign of proved quality and value.

During the first year of its existence, the committee on foods accepted less than 100 of the products submitted for its approval. Since its institution, it has accepted 295 products, 90 of which are products of the Quality Bakers of America, of which organization the Liberty Baking Company is the local member.

Following the convention in New Orleans, the exhibit of the committee on foods, including the products of the Liberty Baking Company, will be taken to Chicago to become a part of the permanent exhibit at the American Medical Association headquarters.

Collections Easier In Lumber Trade

CHICAGO, May 16. — Indications that American business is rapidly liquidating its obligations and preparing for a fresh start are contained in the monthly credit analysis for April just released by the Lumbermen's Blue Book, credit service of the lumber industry. After noting that special requests for credit reports had fallen 20 per cent below the level for April last year, indicating a decrease in orders placed, it reports that the volume of collection business was approximately the same as a year ago. It concludes with the significant statement that collections are easier than for some months past.

Over forty years ago George Westinghouse originated the phrase, "The Name Westinghouse Is Your Guarantee." Today the name Westinghouse, on anything electrical, is more than ever a guarantee of quality.

SPORT COMMENT

By James J. Long

Still Strong for Carey. Few Players Durable.
Many Dodger Changes. Fifth Zivic Soon Ready.

OLD FAVORITE COMES BACK AS FOE

SIXTEEN YEARS A fighter in the Pirate ranks under six different managers, and a coach for one season in 1930 under Jewel Ens, Max Carey came back as a foe today to make his first Pittsburgh appearance as a pilot. Old baseball friendships are suspended when games are at stake, and there are 21 numbers on the National League schedule in which local fans will not be pulling for the success of the former Buccaneer star, but personally they're still strong for Carey, and a warmer welcome awaited him here in his initial western trip with his Dodgers than he has received anywhere else along the line.

Max Carey

Max's visit threatened to spell plenty of trouble for the Gibsons in their efforts to get going in a prolonged winning stride. The Brooklyn outfit was slow to start clicking after its reconstruction, and lost seven of its first 10 games, but recently it has shown signs of finding itself, and tough going for the Corsairs is in prospect in every game of the series that will extend through Thursday to wind up their stay at the home grounds.

SINCE TAKING HOLD of the Dodgers, Carey has done a big job of making over the team. He bought Hack Wilson from the Cardinals for $42,500; traded Babe Herman, Ernest Lombardi and Wally Gilbert with some money to the Reds for Joe Stripp, Tony Cuccinello and Clyde Sukeforth; picked up Waite Hoyt; brought George Kelly back from Minneapolis; purchased Danny Taylor from the Cubs and added some promising rookies.

Except for Glenn Wright at shortstop the infield is entirely new, and only Lefty O'Doul and Johnny Frederick remain in the outfield. Casey Stengel has supplanted Ivan Olson as coach, and with the departing manager, Wilbert Robinson, missed by the fans on this trip after 18 years of continuous leadership, have gone Dolf Luque, Rube Bressler, Jake Flowers, Pea Ridge Day and Denny Southern.

Steve Swetonic, who yesterday halted a Pirate losing streak of five straight for the second time, is the outstanding pitcher of the majors in effectiveness. He is the only hurler with three shutouts to his credit. No other National Leaguer has pitched more than one. Grove, Crowder, Gray and Pipgras have two.

Starting four games and doing relief work in two others, the North Sider has been scored on in only one contest. Not a run has been made off him in his last 20 innings. In a total of 36 innings he has allowed only five runs and 14 hits. In his three shutouts he allowed only eight hits—two threes and a two. If any better pitching than that has been done anywhere, nobody has heard of it.

IT IS NOT unlikely that there will be a little trade talk between Pirate and Dodger heads while the Brooklyn club is in town. But whether anything will come of it is a question. They discussed the same subject earlier this season without getting anywhere. The Dodger bosses have been quoted as saying that Heinie Meine was offered to them at that time for William Watson Clark, but that they declined the proposal. Whether or not they have changed their minds remains to be seen. It is understood that Carey still wants Meine, but the Pittsburgh club's attitude in the case of the holdout pitcher makes it evident that Max won't get any further than the desire if he expects to obtain Heinie for anything less than he is worth.

Paul Waner

IT ISN'T ONLY in the pitching department, where no big leaguer since 1929 has hurled 300 innings in a campaign, and where only five men in each major loop worked in as many as 20 complete games last year, that a lack of endurance has been shown by modern ball players.

There have been rare exceptions, such as Everett Scott, Joe Sewell, Lou Gehrig, Fred Luderus, Eddie Brown and others, playing for a long time without a break, but as a rule few players in any position go through one complete season without missing a game. For instance, no Pirate has done it since 1928, when both Paul and Lloyd Waner took part in every one of Pittsburgh's 152 games.

AT REMAINING STEADILY in the lineup Paul Waner has made a better record than any other Pittsburgh player in recent years. He misses few games from season to season. The smallest number in which he played since he came up was 144 in 1926, his first year in the majors.

In 1930 only eight men in the American and six in the National appeared in every game played by their clubs, and last year there were only four in each league, though Lloyd Waner, Del Bissonette, John Vergez each missed but a single tilt.

THE EIGHT WITH clean records for 1931 were Bill Terry, Wally Berger, Woody English and Tony Cuccinello in the National, and Lou Gehrig, Joe Cronin, Earl Averill and Lyn Lary in the American. Of these eight, only three played steadily through the seasons of 1930 and 1931. Terry was the lone National Leaguer with a clean slate for 1930 who was able to repeat last year, and the only repeaters in the American were Gehrig and Cronin. Illness the first week of the present season interrupted Cronin's string, leaving only Gehrig and Terry to continue their runs.

AS MANAGER OF Fritzie Zivic, fifth boxer to represent a famous local fighting family, Luke Carney writes to announce that he'll soon have the youngster ready for the outdoor season and hopes the district matchmakers will get rid of what he calls an "out-of-town complex" and give some home talent a tumble.

"I should not have to ask a matchmaker for a fight for a Zivic in this town," Carney continues. "This is the largest family of fighters ever known, and the name of Zivic has an appeal to the fans. I look for Fritzie eventually to take his brother Jack's place. He has brains, courage, color, can box and fight, and can hit with both hands. It's the home guard that draws at the box office and the matchmakers ought to give the local boys a break."

AMERICAN COACHING TOOK a round-about course to bring in a new world record. At the bottom of it was Joe Pipal, track and field coach at Occidental College, in Los Angeles, who spent 1919-20-21 in Czecho-Slovakia.

Steve Hamas

In one of his after-the-war classes was Fred Marek. Through what he had learned from Pipal, Marek became an athletic director in Prague. There he developed Frank Doulda, and the latter recently cracked the world shot-put marks of John Kuck and Emil Hirschfield.

THE SECOND VICTORY of Steve Hamas over Tommy Loughran last week has steamed up the coast boxing fans to a greater extent than ever over the return fight between Hamas and Lee Ramage, to be held outdoors in Los Angeles. Therein the promoters have scored over some of the critics who told them they were making a mistake in not staging the second Hamas-Ramage bout before Hamas returned East; that Loughran would take the appeal out of it by handing Steve a beating. But Hamas will go back to California a bigger figure than ever and the clash with Ramage will be an even better card than it promised to be originally.

HARD HITTERS IN FINALE AT GARDEN

TONIGHT'S FIGHTS

Ray Tramblie vs. Paul Pirrone, 10 rounds; Jackie Wilson vs. Steve Senich and Billy Holt vs. Frankie Chatterton, 8 rounds each, and Leo Clements vs. Dick Gibbons, 6 rounds, Motor Square Garden.

Amateur bouts, Natrona.

By HARRY KECK
Sports Editor

Two deadly middleweight punchers, Ray Tramblie, formerly of Rock Island, Ill., and now of Pittsburgh, and Paul Pirrone, of Cleveland, are on edge for their 10-round main bout, featuring the close of the indoor boxing season in Motor Square Garden tonight.

Ray Tramblie

Pirrone is well and favorably known to the local fans, while Tramblie is a newcomer, who has boxed Dave Shade, Jack Kilbourne and other good ones and has an imposing list of knockout victories to his credit. A socking bee is in prospect, with Tramblie seeking to establish himself as a card here, where the woods are full of middleweights for him to fight.

The Garden management looks for a good turnout for its final gesture of a season that has been none too profitable, in keeping with the times.

PRELIMS CHANGED

A change has been made in the preliminary card whereby the Mickey Duris-Louie Severo eight-round semi-final is dropped. In its place, Steve Senich, of Homestead, will box Jackie Wilson, Negro featherweight of the East End. Billy Holt, Negro welterweight stablemate of Wilson, takes on Frankie Chatterton, of Cleveland, in another eight-rounder, and Dick Gibbons, of McKeesport, and Leo Clements, of Jeannette, heavyweights, open the show at 8:45 o'clock.

A scheduled six-rounder between Lee Sala, of Donora, and Tony DeMarco, of Cleveland, middleweights, also is out under the new alignment.

Between Rounds

Matchmaker Lew Raymond and Promoter Arpies Meyers returned yesterday from St. Michaels, Pa., where they saw Battling Glass go through his paces for his 10-round non-title bout with Champion Tony Canzoneri, which will open their Mayers Bowl season. Jobs were from tonight. They saw him box three rounds each with Sammy Parta and Charley Bisenyon, skip rope, punch the bags and go on a five-mile run, and were impressed with his condition.

The patching up of their differences by Jackie Rodgers, former star local Negro featherweight, and Johnny Deutsch, erstwhile manager, is good news to the boxing fans, for it was while under the management of Deutsch that Jackie did his best work. He slumped off badly after leaving the protecting wing of Deutsch. Jackie hopes to be back in the middle of things, figuratively speaking, this summer.

Joey Chemas, of the Pittsburgh Lyceum, will be one of the star amateur boxers who will take part in the monthly show of the Baltimore and Ohio Athletic Association in its clubhouse in Hazelwood tomorrow night.

From the list of wrestlers who will grace the mat at the Garden on Wednesday night in the final indoor show of the season will come one and possibly two headliners for the first outdoor billing of the year here, in an arena yet to be decided upon. Gino Garibaldi meets John Mason and Wee Willie Davis is in with Howard Cleveland in two finish matches, and Hans Steinke opposes Rudy Dusek in the feature of three 30-minute limit preliminaries. The promoters have not yet made up their minds regarding which of the three outdoor arenas they will occupy during the summer months, the Mayers Bowl, Hickey Park or Greenlee Field, and even are contemplating

EXPLANATIONS OF RIPLEY'S CARTOONS OF LAST SATURDAY: A MONUMENT TO THREE TIMES EIGHT—Australia leads the rest of the world in labor legislation. The eight-hour-day first saw the light of day in Melbourne, Australia, in 1856. Not until 10 years later was the demand for an eight-hour labor day formulated in America at a National Labor Congress in Baltimore (1866). The curious monument was drawn by me on the spot and marks a great step forward in the status of the laboring class. EGYPTIAN PROHIBITION—It is unlawful in Egypt to grow any tobacco. Its cultivation has been prohibited since 1843 through a law promulgated by the Khedive Mehemet Ali. The ruler feared that tobacco might exhaust the soil and affect its fertility in the cultivation of sugar and cotton.

TOMORROW: THE HUMAN STATUE.

THIRD SHUTOUT HURLED BY SWETONIC

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

Our Pirates are back in Pittsburgh today, bringing with them Max Carey's pretentious Dodgers, whom the Buccos, with Steve Swetonic in the driver's seat, took for a buggy ride yesterday afternoon in Brooklyn. The two clubs will open a four-game series at Forbes Field this afternoon, Larry French and Ray Phelps may oppose each other on the mound.

Steve Swetonic

George Gibson's young team is still in the cellar, but the Buccos received a tonic in the Flatbush yesterday which should act with as good effect as sulphur and molasses on a country kid in the springtime. The tonic was administered by Dr. Swetonic in an artistic manner. The North Side specialist used the Dodgers for his highly successful experiment and when the clinic was over Stephen had restored the morale of his own students and Old Prof. Gibson in as astounding manner.

BOASTS THREE SHUTOUTS

In at least one sense the outstanding pitcher in the major leagues, Swetonic is the possessor of three shutout victories. His 27 innings of runless pitching were reeled off against two flag contenders, exclusive of the Brooklynites who also had been mentioned in pennant discussions. And to add to the excellence of his twirling the Native Son has allowed a total of only eight hits in his three masterpieces.

Stephen challenged the world champion Cardinals in the home opener and dramatically blanked them on three hits, the monarchs of the sport being hitless until two were out in the eighth when Outfielder George Watkins broke the spell. The Oakland Orchard also was the locale for his second whitewash party, with Hornsby's Cubs as the befuddled victims on three hits.

Steve was even more Matty-like as he recorded his third runless victory of the season. The intelligent sharpshooter yielded only two hits and one of these was a rank scratch, according to ringside reports of the conflict.

Perhaps the return to the Pirate lineup of Catcher Earl Grace and a steadying effect on the Pirates in any event, the same receiver who supported Steve in his other shutout victories was back on the job. The speed of Tony Piet and the hitting of Gus Suhr and Floyd Vaughan combined to give the Pirates the little scoring edge they needed to win, in view of Swetonic's fine pitching. The score was 2 to 0.

PIET SCORES FIRST

Max Carey thus was disappointed as his club competed against the Pirates for the first time. Opposed to Swetonic was the clever lefthander, Joe Shaute, who was keen enough to hold the Pirates to seven hits in eight rounds.

Piet's punch, speed and daring scored the first Pirate run. Tony pried off the fourth with a single and swiped second and third. He rushed across the plate on a burst of speed on an infield tap.

Suhr and Vaughan hooked up a double and a single in the sixth to add the Pirates' safety tally. Swetonic rolled along in his smooth manner to the finish, Steve's card shows 20 consecutive inning of runless pitching.

PITT AND TECH TEAMS CLASH

By JESS CARVER

The intercollegiate track and field championship of the city will be settled tomorrow afternoon as the rival squads of Pitt and Carnegie Tech clash in their annual meet in the Pitt Stadium. Neither team sports any impressive strength, but for the first time in years, the Tartans are conceded close to a 50-50 chance of beating the Panthers.

Alex Wilson

The rivals both were defeated last week, Carnegie losing its first dual tests of the year to Geneva, and Pitt remaining consistent by losing to Notre Dame.

Spectators at the Pitt-Notre Dame meet were impressed by the smooth running of Notre Dame's Alex Wilson, who will compete for Canada in the Olympic Games. Wilson ran a 48.6 quarter mile, was pressed but not too hard, by Jack Keller and his final burst of speed was as nifty a performance as has been seen in the Stadium for some time.

In tomorrow's meet, it will be a question as to whether Woody Harris, Pitt's Negro sprint star; Mike Sebastain, Joe Tormey, Jack Keller, Jim Watkins and Len Monheim. Theison and Lewis can match actions with the Tartan group of individual stars, Capt. Tom Coulter, Art Sigmund, Jess Price, Ed Stenz and one or two others.

This afternoon, the Pitt and Carnegie net squads are slated for action on the Tartan courts. Bethany and Wash-Jeff racquet handlers are booked at Bethany. St. Vincent baseball team meets Mt. St. Mary's today at Emmetsburg, Md.

GRID TICKET PRICES CUT

BOSTON, May 16.—(AP.)—The $5 football game has disappeared from the playing fields of Harvard, Princeton and Yale.

Pasteboards for next season's major varsity games at the three universities have been reduced by 20 to 50 per cent.

Harvard-Yale and Princeton-Yale tickets will bring $4 instead of $5. Yale-Dartmouth tickets will drop $1 to $2, while the Harvard-Dartmouth entrance fee remains at $4. Yale-Chicago admission will be $2, half the former rate, and Harvard's two opening games will bring $1 per ticket, also half the charge formerly in effect.

The prices for both the Harvard-Army and Yale-Army games will remain at $4. Harvard-Holy Cross tickets will bring $2, as in former years. Harvard-Brown admissions will be prices at $2 instead of the $3 rate charged in 1927, the last year these teams met.

At Princeton, there will be two prices for the Cornell and Navy games. Reserved seats along the sides of the stadium will be $3 instead of $4 and seats at the ends will bring in $1.50. Minor games will bring $1 in place of $1.50 and $2.

The reduction was expected to affect Harvard's football revenues by approximately $100,000.

Golf Tourney Opens In Kansas City Today

KANSAS CITY, May 16.—(AP.)—Golfers of nearby Midwestern states were assembling in Kansas City today for the Heart of America medal play tournament, which starts with a preliminary 18-hole, best-ball contest for pro-amateur teams from Missouri and Kansas at the Hillcrest Country Club this afternoon.

After the pro-amateur pairs play for cash prizes and trophies, the 72-hole amateur competition gets under way tomorrow.

Olympic Yachting Entries Announced

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(INS.)—Seven European nations to whom sailing the sea has been a means of livelihood as well as a sport for centuries already have pledged entries in the yachting events of the tenth Olympic Games, which formally open here July 30.

Entries include Holland, Sweden, England, France, Spain, Belgium and Finland, it was revealed today.

The races will be staged off Long Beach, Cal., and the trim yachts during their stay here will be anchored inside the Long Beach jetty.

PENN'S EIGHT UPSETS DOPE

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—Perpetrators of the greatest upset of the season, Penn's varsity has given Yale clear title to the eastern rowing lead with Syracuse and Cornell the only other unbeaten eights.

Beaten by Yale and Columbia in the Blackwell Cup race 11 days ago, Penn gave the experts a terrific jolting at Annapolis Saturday by whipping a highly favored Harvard boatload by tenths of a second.

Penn was considered to have a chance of finishing no better than third in this quadrangular affair, with Harvard and Navy picked to finish one-two and Massachusetts Tech fourth.

The triumph climaxed the greatest day Penn rowing has enjoyed since the war. Previously Rusty Callows freshmen and lightweights had been first across the finish line. The fourth race on the program, for junior varsities, went to Navy.

The next two weeks should determine beyond a doubt whether Yale, Cornell or Syracuse shall be adjudged the East's sprint rowing champion for 1932.

This week Cornell will make its seasonal debut in the Carnegie Cup regatta on Cayuga Lake on Saturday against Yale and Princeton. The following week, May 28, at Cambridge, the Ithacans will race Harvard and Syracuse in a triangular test on the Charles.

Nick Altrock Baseball's Humorist Says:

Nick Altrock

When you think of it, why shouldn't the Japanese be great ball players? I never saw one yet that couldn't juggle 18 tennis balls in his hands or a beer keg with his feet. Why, you give a Japanese a paper umbrella and he could even balance our budget.

Some day we may have to be meeting the Tokio Red Kimonos or the Yokahama White Sandals for the world championship. And, when we do, I hope they still have breweries in dear old Nippon.

Charleston's Senators had two big four-run innings at Johnstown, defeating the Johnnies 8 to 3. Mackey and Nagle hit home runs for the Senators.

Clarksburg overcame an early Huntington lead and defeated the Boosters, 9 to 3. Reinert slammed a home run for the victors.

International Loop Attendance Mark Set

Associated Press.

As a bright spot in a baseball season which has seen club owners far and wide complaining because the fans failed to turn out, the International League had a brand new attendance record today.

The Montreal Royals and Newark Bears, standing a scrap for first place, played before 21,500 paying customers yesterday and treated them to an even break in a bitterly contested doubleheader. Newark also held the old record of 19,338 paid admissions, made when they played Jersey City on their last Sunday of the 1931 season. The best previous crowd at Montreal was on the opening day four years ago when the Royals' return to the league was seen by over 20,000, of whom 17,300 paid.

The King's total earnings mounted to $102,690 during the past nine days. The Preakness victory carried with it a purse of $50,375 and a replica of the Woodlawn Cup to add to the winnings of the Derby seven days before.

Saturday's card featured by the Preakness brought the spring racing season in Maryland officially to a close, but many owners and horses remained at Pimlico to participate in the charity day program today.

BRAVES, YANKS NEAR LEADERS

Associated Press.

The Boston Braves moved up to within one game of first place yesterday by walloping the St. Louis Cardinals 8-0 while the league-leading Chicago Cubs were bowing to the Phillies, 8-6.

The Cardinals unkeed themselves in a hurry since by raising the world championship flag. Neither Bruce Cunningham nor Paul Derringer, starting pitchers, lasted long but the Braves uncovered an effective relief hurler in Bob Brown who blanked the Cards with two hits in the last five innings and fanned four.

SWETONIC STRONG

Al Brooklyn Slick Swetonic pitched a two-hit shutout his third of the season and the Pirates beat the Robins, 2 to 0.

The Phillies served Lon Warneke his first defeat pounding him for 12 hits including home runs by Klein, Hurst and Virgil Davis.

In the American League Charley Ruffing held the Cleveland Indians to four hits and struck out 10 men in a 3-0 victory that put the Yankees within a game and a half of the league-leading Washington Senators.

BROWNS BLAT NATS

The Senators were beaten by the St. Louis Browns as Walter Stewart allowed only four hits. Charley Gehringer's seventh home run marked a five-run fifth-inning rally that gave the Detroit Tigers a 7-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics. The Chicago Whitesox pounded Wiley Moore for nine hits and eight runs in the first two innings to beat the Boston Redsox.

British Open Golf Lures 14 Americans

LONDON, May 16.—(AP.)—Fourteen Americans are among the 252 golfers entered for the British open championship at Sandwich, June 6. The number includes Tommy Armour, winner of the crown last year at Carnoustie, MacDonald Smith and Gene Sarazen.

The remainder of the American field is composed of six amateurs living in England, including the Sweeney brothers, of Oxford University, Stuart Scheftel and Douglas Grant, Walter Pursey, of Seattle, Joshua Crane, of Brookline, Mass., Gordon Smith, of Palm Beach, Fla., Ross Thompson, of Uniontown, Pa., and Ellsworth Augustus, of Cleveland.

Walter Hagen, four times winner of the British Open, who has told friends he was planning to seek the title again, was not among the entries.

P. I. A. A. Elimination Meet Carded Today

The track and field eliminations among the local members of the P. I. A. A. postponed because of bad weather last week, will be staged on Schenley Oval this afternoon.

Langley, Peabody, Fifth Avenue, Oliver, Westinghouse and Allderdice High schools will compete for the right to qualify for the state meet at Altoona, Saturday of next week.

Kiski is scheduled to meet Shady Side Academy in golf and baseball at Shady Side this afternoon, and a full card of Interscholastic Tennis Conference matches also is billed.

RUNNER SETS RECORD

BUENOS AIRES, May 16.—(AP.)—In a pre-Olympic track meet, the Argentine runner, Jose Bubar, set a new South American record for the 25,000-meter run yesterday, covering the distance in 1 hour 25 minutes and 15 seconds. The former record was held by Carlos Zabala, who is now on his way to Los Angeles for the Olympic games.

PROS TO FILE OPEN ENTRIES TOMORROW

By TOM BIRKS

Local golf professionals are busy today sending in their entry blanks for the National Open championship, the qualifying round of which is scheduled over the Oakmont playout June 6.

Tomorrow is the last day for entries and, since practically all of the leading professionals in the tri-state district usually play in the qualifying round, there is every reason to feel that a large number of entries will be received. While the qualifying round locally usually attracts a large field, few of the qualifiers in the past few years have made the trip to the scene of title action.

Pete O'Hara, the Westmoreland wizard, seems to be the one exception. While the traveling pro ides never did click in this district, many golfers would like to see the local qualifiers make the trip to the Open and give us one more chance to land the trophy in the Pittsburgh district.

SARAZEN FAVORITE

Gene Sarazen, who has been knocking around the championship door ever since the day he scored 288 to win at Skokie, is rated favorite to cop this year, seeing that the tourney will be played over the Fresh Meadow Country Club course, at which Sarazen was pro for many years. His brilliant showing in the South this winter also backs that theory.

This afternoon the Sons of the American Revolution will hold their first tourney of the year over the Pittsburgh Country Club course. It is the only tourney of the day.

PITT, DUKES CLASH

At Longue Vue tomorrow night Edward E. McCoy, chairman of the caddie welfare committee, will have the Caddie Masters' Association as guests at a dinner at 6 o'clock. Officers will be elected and all business for the season transacted.

Women golfers should remember the one-day tourney at Edgewood next Monday for the benefit of the Welfare Fund. An entrance fee of $1.00 will be charged and all women golfers, club members or not, are invited to compete.

In an 18-hole match play against par event yesterday at Stanton Heights, Xavier Totten, captain of the Duquesne University golf team, led the field. He finished 1 up. Garland Mourning was second, finishing all even. L. P. Tech, M. J. Jennings, S. M. Hanker and G. V. Kappel finished 2 down.

SPORT VIGNETTES

A remarkable competitive record is owned by John Graham, president of the Western Pennsylvania Golf Association in 1928. . . . With the exception of one year, 1927, he has won the championship of the South Hills Country Club every year since it was organized, in 1920. . . . He won the West Penn amateur title in 1928, to go along with his incumbency as president of the district association. . . . He also has been chairman of the greens committee of the South Hills Country Club every year. . . . Bob Graham, a brother, is the professional at the Schenley Park public course. . . . Both are former soccer stars.

Imagine a champion of the world going out of his way to pick the toughest opposition he can find in these safety-first days. . . . Yet that's just what Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion, did recently when he issued a defi to Billy Petrolle, right after the Fargo Express had added to his reputation by knocking out Battling Battalino, the former featherweight champion. . . . And this despite the fact that Petrolle already holds a 10-round decision over him. . . . Canzoneri has made almost a half million dollars in the fight game and has held three titles, the featherweight, lightweight and junior-welterweight, and he knows that to get the money he must fight the best. . . . When his manager was approached by Lew Raymond and asked to permit Tony to box Battling Gizzy in the opening show at the Meyers Bowl one week from tonight, Goldman didn't ask any questions about Gizzy's ability. . . . All he wanted to know was if Canzoneri could make more money fighting Gizzy than any other opponent here. . . . That matter settled, the match speedily was closed.

Speaking of champions, it is not generally known that Johnny Jadick, the junior-welterweight champion who meets Herman Folino in the main bout at Hickey Park, Millvale, next week, also is challenging the highly-rated Petrolle and may defend his title against Billy at an early date. . . . He won the bauble from Canzoneri. . . . Matty Oldach, the Erie lightweight, who recently defeated Joey Speigal at the Moose Temple and meets Marty Gornick in the semi-final of the opening show at Hickey Park Thursday night, has lost only two bouts in 24 starts in the Pittsburgh district and six bouts in 51. . . . His present winning streak has been run up to 13. . . . Among those he has beaten in addition to Speigal are Gornick, Eddie Hebner, Eddie Brannon, Jimmy Dean, Louie Severo, Jackie Murray and Ronnie Headley, of Canada.

Gate receipts make the mare go in sports, and the Pirates never will reach the first division in the bank account league if they continue to run into postponements at their present rate. . . . Dizzy Dean wants the St. Louis Cardinals to trade him because he doesn't think he is being pitched frequently enough. . . . The Pirate pitchers probably felt the same way about their own cases last week. . . . One satisfaction rival owners may derive for themselves is the fact that a horse like Burgoo King can run in only one Derby and one Preakness in a lifetime. . . . Jockey James, on Burgoo King, and Jesse James were famous for the same reason. . . . Both had a horse. . . . The Boston Braves have put their Brandt on many clubs, which accounts in a large measure for the fact that they are crowding the Cubs for first place.—HARRY KECK.

AUSSIES TO TEST U. S. NETTERS

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—The Davis Cup scene shifts to Philadelphia this week with the United States and Australia rivals of old paired in the North American zone finals.

Both registered clean-sweep victories in the semi-finals over the week-end, the United States eliminating Mexico, 5-0, and Australia disposing of Cuba by the same count.

The finals will open at Philadelphia Friday with two singles matches. The doubles will be played Saturday and the final two singles matches Monday.

SPAIN EXTENDS MATCH

ROME, May 16.—(AP.)—Spain today defeated Italy at doubles in their Davis Cup series to continue the match another day. Italy won the first two singles matches.

Ernest Maier, Spain's ranking star, and Jose Tejada paired to defeat A. del Bono and Count di Mineiti, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

Maier dominated the play throughout, serving frequent service aces and was well supported by Tejada.

With better weather in sight, sandlot fans are looking for all local leagues to swing into action this week. The City League will stage three games this evening, two of which were postponed from last week.

The regular scheduled game finds Books clashing with J. L. Thomas at Bloomfield. The Olympia Park aggregation should make a real opening-day attraction for Contestible and his ball players.

In an effort to get caught up with the schedule, league officials have carded Dormont to assist Stowe in opening the season this evening. This will give the Rox fans a chance to see just how the Semler-Wickline aggregation shapes up in fast company. It also will give the followers of the circuit an opportunity to see what the champions have on hand.

NORTH SIDERS PLAY

On the North Side, Art Rooney will take his North Siders to Pleasant Valley to hook up with Leo Green's Frank Ferris nine.

The Greater Pittsburgh League has one game booked. Cup Jenkins talking his outfit across the bridge to meet Swissvale. The West Penn League is idle this evening, but the County League swings into action. The Scott Morgans of Homewood travel to Greenlee Field to meet the Pittsburgh Cardinals, and Frick Park goes to Wilkinsburg to meet the Millikens.

ACES BEAT FROGS

In West Penn League frays yesterday, the Homestead Aces defeated the St. Clair Frogs, 1 to 0, and Duquesne beat Turtle Creek, 2-1. North Versailles nosed out Clairton, 11-9, in a McKeesport League fracas, and in the Greater Pittsburgh loop City Section, the Jena nine won over the Snees, 9 to 6.

The Homestead Grays won and lost in an East-West Negro League double bill in Detroit, winning the second game 5 to 2 after dropping the first, 5-4.

Two Auto Racers Claimed by Death

READING, Pa., May 16.—(AP.)—Fred Frame, Los Angeles, driving his speedway Duesenberg, took major honors at the Reading auto races yesterday before a crowd estimated at 25,000 spectators. Francis H. Timm, of Old Forge, Pa., was injured fatally during the trials. His car went over an embankment.

Frame set a new track record for the half mile of 28 4-5 seconds in his qualifying lap, won the five-mile qualifying race for six fastest cars in five minutes and also won the feature race of 20 miles in 19 minutes, 54 seconds.

FRESNO, Cal., May 16.—(AP.)—William Heisler, 30, of Hawthorne, Cal., was killed when his racing car was wrecked in a trial run at the Fairgrounds Speedway yesterday.

NEW MARKET, N. J., May 16.—(AP.)—Ray Young, of Johnstown, Pa., won three first places in the opening auto race meet of the season at the local half-mile dirt track yesterday.

Outboard Race Record Broken

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—A non-stop journey down the Hudson at express train speed has won for Charley Cabot, of New Haven, the fifth annual motorboat marathon from Albany to New York.

The 29-year-old garageman covered the 132-mile course in the new record time of 2 hours 56 minutes 39 seconds yesterday to win first place by a margin of only one second over 18-year-old Kenneth MacKenzie, senior in New Haven High School.

Cabot averaging 44.4 miles per hour for the trip, clipped more than 13 minutes off the course record of 3:10 set by Wade Woodworth, former Northwestern University football star, a year ago. MacKenzie, of course, broke the record, too, and so did Edgar Greason, of New York, first amateur across the finish line. Greason, placing third, was timed in 3 hours 8 minutes 3 seconds.

French Net Stars Win Over Yankees

AUTEUIL, France, May 16.—(AP.)—France took a 2-1 lead over the United States in their special team tennis match yesterday, winning the doubles.

Christian Bouseus and Andre Merlin teamed up to win a four-set duel from Sidney B. Wood and Gregory S. Mangin, 3-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-1.

the Marsh Stogie

IS A BETTER SMOKE THAN EVER

"GOOD?... I'll say they're good!" expresses Pittsburgh's opinion of Marsh Stogies. For years they have been the favorite smoke of the men of Pittsburgh.

The Marsh is not like other stogies . . . it is mild. Even the tobacco that goes into it must be aged for three full years before it's mellow enough for this fine stogie.

And now it is better than ever. Because every Marsh is now seasoned-in-cedar, the first and only stogie to receive the extra advantage hitherto reserved only for the most expensive cigars.

And now when Marsh Stogies come from the seasoning chest, they are wrapped in a Cellophane Flavor-Guard — fully protecting their freshness and fragrance, from the time they leave the chest until you remove the Cellophane wrapper and touch a match to the biggest nickel's worth of smoking enjoyment you ever had.

If you haven't tried a Marsh lately, by all means do so today. You will like them. And their economy is not to be winked at these days —5c at all good cigar counters—less by the box.

Rails Prove Feeble Spot As Rallies Fail to Hold; Trading Pace Slows Up

The list rallied a little in spots after announcement of the reduction in Du Pont's dividend, but the recovery soon faltered, as the general list showed no signs of following. Selling was moderately active for a time in the morning, but the list was extremely quiet after midday.

Rails were again conspicuously feeble. Union Pacific sold off 4 points, recovered 2 on the rally, but soon sagged again. Santa Fe common declined 2½, recovered more than a point, then turned downward. The preferred sold at 48, off 7. Such issues as Eastman, Allied Chemical and North American temporarily recovered a point, after declining about 2. Such stocks as American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, National Biscuit, New Haven, New York Central, Southern Pacific lost a point or so. Merchandizing issues were heavy, with Woolworth, Safeway and First National Stores losing 2 points or so. Short covering appeared in Du Pont after the dividend cut, and a one point loss was erased. Oils were barely steady.

The cut in DuPont's quarterly dividend to 75 cents from $1 had been regarded as almost a foregone conclusion since General Motors, in which it has a 23 per cent interest, cut its quarterly disbursement to 25 cents from 50. Among other important dividends due for action this week is that of American Telephone, whose directors meet on Wednesday. There has been no hint from sources close to the company as to whether the $2.25 quarterly rate will be maintained. While current earnings are somewhat under the current dividend rate, the management is said to feel that requisitions upon surplus should be made in maintaining the payments in so far as it may be prudent to do so.

There was virtually no change in the character of the selling from that which has been trickling into the market during the past several days. It was of a slow studied character, suggesting further selling out of collateral loans, and liquidation by holders in need of cash.

COTTON PRICES RULE STEADY

NEW YORK, May 16.—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 to 4 points on small offerings in response to good weather in the south. July sold at 5.55.

Traders were evidently inclined to await further developments in that quarter, while a continuation of the holidays in Liverpool and continental markets also tended to restrict business, and the market remained very quiet during the first half hour. The small initial offerings were sufficiently well taken to steady prices, however, with the market ruling about 3 to 4 points net lower.

The market remained quiet later in the morning with prices sagging off slightly under small offerings, probably reflecting the easier stock market. July worked off to 5.54 and December to 5.93, with active months ruling about 4 to 5 points net lower at midday.

State's Payrolls Lower for April

PHILADELPHIA, May 16.—(AP.)—Declines of four per cent in factory employment and 10 per cent in wage payments were noted in Pennsylvania factories from March to April, the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia reported.

All manufacturing groups covered by the bank's indices reported more than usual reductions in employment and payrolls, the largest decline occurring in the metal, textile, lumber and stone, clay and glass producing industries.

Confidence Gaining In Steel Business

CLEVELAND, May 16.—(AP.)—Slightly greater confidence due to a number of factors is manifest in the steel industry, according to the magazine Steel.

The fourth consecutive week of operations holding at 24 per cent, continuation of the moderate broadening of automotive requirements and the placing in effect of the 15 per cent wage and salary reduction, are the grounds for better confidence, the magazine said.

EVENING SUN-TELEGRAPH MARKETS

TRADE BALANCE FAVORS U. S.

WASHINGTON, May 16.—The United States had a favorable foreign trade balance of $9,000,000 during April.

The Department of Commerce in a preliminary announcement today said exports for April were approximately $136,000,000 and imports $127,000,000. In April, 1931, exports were $215,077,000 and imports $185,706,000.

Exports of gold during April totaled $49,509,000 compared with $27,000 in April, 1931. Imports were $19,033,000 against $49,843,000.

Silver exports during April were $1,596,000 against $3,249,000 in April, 1931 and imports were $1,612,000 against $2,439,000.

Cotton exports in April were $20,518,000 a reduction of about $15,000,000 from March.

For four months exports were $595,680,000 against $924,926,000 in 1931 and imports totaled $524,801,000 against $754,002,000 in 1931.

Exchange Seeking More "Short" Data

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—The New York Stock Exchange has again requested its members to submit information showing the geographical distribution of short sellers.

In an order to members the second in recent weeks the exchange requested information as of the close of business May 16 showing the total number of short accounts in each state of the United States and in each foreign country.

Brokerage Quarters have been inclined to surmise that the exchange wished the information in connection with the senatorial investigation of exchange practices.

Street Expecting Regular Dividend on Telephone Next Wednesday

A number of important dividend meetings are slated to take place this week. Most important, by reason of the huge proportions of the army of investors which the company boasts, will be the gathering on Wednesday of American Telephone and Telegraph directors. Though the company is apparently not covering requirements at the prevailing $9 rate the consensus is that the regular quarterly disbursement of $2.25 will be ordered at that time. Earnings for the first quarter, including about $5,000,000 dividends paid by subsidiaries out of accumulated, rather than current profits, were equivalent to $2.07 a share on the stock.

The strictures of the Interstate Commerce Commission on the alleged excessive salaries of some railway executives has opened up a new field of speculation in Wall Street as to how much a corporation shareholders should be permitted to know of the "inside" affairs of their companies. In some quarters the opinion is held that a "new era" is approaching in which such hitherto delicate matters as compensation of executives will be a matter of public record.

There have been intervals during recent sessions when the market indicated the prevalence of something of an oversold condition, but rallying tendencies which normally develop under such circumstances have been feeble at best. The action of the list in such occasions affords mute testimony of the almost complete letdown in active speculative interest. Speculative selling appears to have played little part in the current decline and in consequence the usual covering operations which might be anticipated have been either lacking or unimportant. Heavy shrinkage in brokers' loans and in advances of banks on security collateral indicate liquidation has been the real driving force.

Another $50,000,000 bubble in the vast financial structure of the late Ivar Kreuger burst as the first tentative report of the Irving Trust Company, receiver for the bankrupt International Match Corporation, was made public. James N. Rosenberg, attorney for the receiver, reported German government bonds worth $50,000,000 appeared to have been pledged by Kreuger for his own purposes. The Irving Trust Company has come into possession of safe keeping receipts for the bonds, Rosenberg reported, but the whereabouts of the bonds is unknown. Rosenberg made it known that only $165,000 in cash has been retrieved from the International Match wreckage so far. He listed also approximately $17,500,000 of serial drafts of the Turkish government, payable semi-annually until 1953, and $2,360,000 in bonds of the Republic of Guatemala.

Speculative activity does not appear to be influenced greatly by such outside developments as the recommendations made to President Hoover Saturday by rail labor chieftains. For the moment the market very evidently is feeling the effect of conditions which are the outgrowth of its own performance, namely, continuance of forced dribbling liquidation resulting from weakened loan positions. Demand for covering purposes has not been in evidence and in consequence rallying tendencies have been feeble.

Recent activities in most commercial lines has been characterized by a somewhat better tone. This is particularly applicable to retail trade which, continuing along its upward seasonal trend during the past week, appears to be gathering some returns from programs of extensive advertising. Indications that many merchants are yielding to lower profit levels is demonstrative of return to a more constructive basis of business activity. Mercantile trade reviews report continuance of shoe manufacturing at a fairly high rate. Reflecting more liberal railroad buying, movement of machinery has shown some improvement over that in the past couple of months.

Peru's Government Off Gold Standard

LIMA, Peru, May 16.—(AP.)—After a long uphill fight the Peruvian government has decided to abandon the gold standard "for a temporary period."

The first intimation of the decision came when persons attempting to buy foreign drafts at the banks found that sales had been stopped as no quotation was available.

Although there was no official quotation for the sol it was learned unofficially that it was being quoted at five to the United States dollar. Its par value is 28 cents.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, May 16.—Sharp declines in various Japanese issues following the assassination of Premier Inukai and reports of sporadic disorders in Nippon, had a mildly depressing effect on the bond market today and loans of various categories were inclined to irregularity. The United States government department was somewhat mixed. French 7½'s firmed moderately, but the 7's eased. Both the German 5½'s and 7's gave ground, as did Italian 7's.

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—Transactions in the most active bonds on the New York Stock Exchange today were as follows. 000 omitted in sales column. (United States bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars.)

DU PONT STOCK ON $3 BASIS

NEW YORK, May 16.—(AP.)—Directors of E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., today reduced the quarterly dividend on the common stock to 75 cents from $1, thus placing the shares on a $3 annual basis against the $4 rate paid since March, 1929.

The reduction reflected in part the smaller income received by the company from its holdings of General Motors stock, amounting to about 9,900,000 shares. General Motors recently cut its annual dividend rate from $2 to $1.

Du Pont also announced a 10 per cent salary reduction, effective June 1. Today's dividend is payable June 15 to stock of record May 25.

French Railroad Redeeming Bonds

NEW YORK, May 16.—The Paris-Lyons-Mediterranean Railroad Company, through its fiscal agent, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., announced that it will redeem on August 15, 1932, at 103 per cent of par all of the outstanding 6 per cent external sinking fund gold bonds due August 15, 1958. The original issue was $40,000,000 of which $38,390,000 are at present outstanding.

Chrysler Payrolls Highest in 3 Years

DETROIT, May 16.—The Chrysler Corporation currently is employing more people than at any time in the last three years. This is partly due to the Plymouth activity but also to the fact that Chrysler divisions are now producing more of their own parts than ever before. Plymouth is working on a schedule of 24,000 cars for May, compared with production of about 20,000 in April.

Dividend Notices

International Petroleum Company, Limited

Notice of Dividend No. 33

NOTICE is hereby given that a dividend of 25c. United States Currency per share has been declared and the same will be payable on or after the 15th day of June, 1932, in respect to the shares specified in any Bearer Share Warrants of the Company of the 1929 issue upon presentation and delivery of coupons No. 33 at the City Bank Farmers Trust Company, 22 William St., New York, N. Y.

The payment to Shareholders of record at the close of business on the 31st day of May, 1932, and whose shares are represented by registered Certificates of the 1929 issue, will be made by cheque, mailed from the offices of the Company on the 14th day of June, 1932.

The transfer books will be closed from the 1st day of June to 15th day of June, 1932, inclusive, and no Bearer Share Warrants will be "split" during that period.

By order of the Board,
J. R. CLARKE,
Secretary.

Forbes

Wall St. Once More Blames Washington

By B. C. FORBES

WALL STREET, upset once again, blames Washington once again.

Until Congress settles various vital tax, banking, relief and other problems, tranquility must not be expected.

Mr. Forbes

High European politics are occasioning concern in the highest banking circles here. Untoward events on the continent are not only feared, but have already been largely discounted by the international financial world. In addition to Germany, the "Danubian states" are expected to cause unsettlement.

THE DOMESTIC POLITICAL, financial and economic compass can be briefly boxed thus:

Political uncertainty is causing fresh nervousness.

The constant swelling of bank credit facilities is counted upon to improve investment and commodity prices, although very gradually.

Fear that America may abandon the gold standard has spread in many directions at home as well as abroad, with the result that a considerable amount of gold is being hoarded.

Industry and business, by and large, do not yet reflect convincing improvement.

As a matter of fact there has been a recrudescence of fear.

FINANCIERS, CAPITALISTS and financial institutions fear Congress.

In short, Americans of today are exhibiting a spirit deplorably different from that of their pioneer forefathers.

Faith in the United States, faith in the United States government, faith in the recuperative powers of the United States has sunk to disgraceful depths.

HAPPILY SUCH A STATE of mind invariably prevails towards the tail end of depression. History proves that recovery has regularly set in when hopelessness became most rampant.

That history will repeat itself cannot be doubted. But, no mortal can tell how far unreasoning pessimism may be carried before the sure-as-sunrise recovery actually begins.

EUROPEAN NATIONS had the sagacity to form "coalition" or "national" governments when confronted with supreme difficulties.

Most assuredly there is need today for patriotic co-operation rather than partisanship at the seat of our national government. Occasionally there have been indications that Washington politicians would put patriotism above party politics. But apparently many of our lawmakers, both in the House and the Senate, do not realize just how urgent and imperative the need for broad statesmanship has become.

ONE EXTREMELY influential banker replied last week, when I tried to induce him to assert constructive leadership:

"If we were faced with a crisis, what you suggest might be all right."

Faced with a crisis! Ask the seven or eight millions of unemployed whether they are faced with a crisis. Ask other millions of breadwinners whose work and wages are shrinking alarmingly whether they feel they are faced with a crisis. Ask nine out of 10 business concerns whether they fear they are facing a crisis.

A crisis! In my humble opinion, America at this moment is in the throes of a more painful crisis that it experienced at any stage of the World War.

Why, in the name of common sense and of humaneness dillydally and shillyshally until more people are thrown idle and business becomes still worse before putting forth every possible effort to get things going in a less unsatisfactory direction?

MURDER OF THE NIGHT CLUB LADY :-: :-: By ANTHONY ABBOT

Statement Says Lola Meant To Commit Murders With Scorpions

CHAPTER XXXIV

"I told her that I wanted to see her alone. She consented and I came into the boudoir. I told her that I had the scorpions—two boxes in my overcoat, which I had thrown over my arm as I entered her bedroom. She became very eager and treated me to let her see them. But I hesitated. I explained to her how dangerous they were. I told her that she ought not to take risks—of any kind. Then I looked her straight in the eyes and told her that murder was a game that was always caught.

"She looked up in the eyes quite a moment and laughed. She demanded the scorpions and full instructions as to how to manage them. I gave her the boxes with the instructions and then I left for the door. Just as my hand was on the knob she called to me.

"I remember her words with the most perfect distinctness.

"'Look here, Baldwin,' she said in her usually always lovely voice. 'Only these days I may be seeing you on a hurried matter. I mean somebody may be very much taken sick all of a sudden. Understand?'

"I nodded. I felt I understood all too well. But I had no idea of the devilish reach of that woman's imagination.

COULD NOT FORGET

"'Well,' she chuckled, 'if that ever happens I can tell you right now what is expected of you. When you get here you'll find somebody that's sick. When you do, look on their arm for a bite. On the arm, remember. Then stick your hypo needle right in the bite. Do you understand?'

"I do not know to this day how I stood there without crying out against such a fiendish, damnable scheme. Yet she was looking at me smiling, serene, beautiful. Yes, I thought, the devil is a woman and the woman is Lola Carewe.

"Vincent Rowland did not answer when I bade him goodnight. I went home in the depths of despair. I tried to forget about it. I planned a trip out of town. I would not be there when I was sent for. But I was a coward—the worst coward in history. I was in too deep. I had done criminal things too long. There was no moral strength left for me to draw upon."

Here there was an interruption in this extraordinary manuscript. A smaller sheet of paper was laid between the leaves. On the top I read:

"Everything has happened—now I am back here—there can be only one end—"

SCORPIONS STOLEN

"Whom did she mean to kill besides myself? Often I debated that question. But she had so many irons in the fire it might easily be someone I did not even know. I felt comforted by this reflection. But I was like a man walking in a nightmare. Then only a day or so before New Year's, Lola telephoned me in a rage. Someone had stolen the boxes I had given her.

"'The scorpions were gone!'

"She blamed me. She accused me of having stolen them back. I had a key to the apartment which she had given me, for often she wanted me to come in and see her without ringing the bell and thus calling attention to my call. She thought I was weakening. She made me promise to get her more scorpions.

"To calm her I promised that I would obtain two more scorpions. But I explained that it would again take weeks. The specimens had to be sent for. I would have to see my supply man, Ricardo Villafranca.

"However, I kept delaying, but finally did it. Imagine my surprise—my terror—when I received a call to come to Lola's apartment just a few hours ago. But my consternation was increased tenfold when I entered the room and saw the victim was Lola Carewe herself.

"I was in a panic. There she lay. I looked at her arms. She herself had been bitten by the scorpion. The mark was plainly there. In self-defense I said she had had heart trouble and then, in self-defense, I performed the trick which she had taught me. I put the needle into the bite and thus obliterated all trace.

"But who killed her? Who killed Christine Quires—by the same deadly scorpion bite? I do not know. But I am going to get one more scorpion. After what I have done tonight—and the knowledge that Lola's papers will surely expose me—I do not care to live. Disregard all I said at the beginning of this letter—I truly die by my own hand."

Here, abruptly, the writing ended. There was no signature. Dr. Hugh Baldwin lay dead at our feet. Had he actually taken his own life in horror and remorse? There seemed little doubt of that. But the accusations—veiled and specific which he had left behind—what of them?

The letter was not the end of the mystery. It was the beginning of a larger and more baffling problem.

The morning was almost gone by the time we had finished reading that death letter of Dr. Baldwin, the hands were within 15 minutes of noon.

Thoughtfully and deliberately Thatcher Colt filled his pipe and lighted it. Then, naming the suicide statement over to me, the Commissioner resumed his interrupted search of the office. As he slowly moved about pausing before the most inconsequential objects and studying them seriously, the chief discussed the latest revelations.

"It is a melancholy probability, Tony," he began, "that Dr. Baldwin could have saved three lives, his own included, had he had the manhood to come down to Center street and tell me the facts. I could have protected that man from everything, disgrace in his own profession included."

Colt nodded.

"But Dougherty was on the trail of something real—something important," Colt replied. "It happened to be blackmail instead of jewel thieves, but Dougherty was getting somewhere. More power to him, say I. I have had the Rock-Ribbed Securities Corporation looked up this morning. It was a bucket-shop affair, and the officers have all shipped to South America."

"That letter of Baldwin's is really very upsetting about Rowland," he resumed, as he sauntered across the floor. "It reveals the interesting suspicion for Baldwin seems to have no real proof as yet, that Vincent Rowland is a rogue. Suppose he is. Is he a murderer?"

"If he were the one he had every cause to be the other," I argued.

"And some semblance of opportunity, that is to say, he was on the premises last night. Right? If Rowland were frightened, he might be the man to take bold, decisive action. That has always been his method in his court-room battles—spectacular affairs always. Moreover, he might figure that these very three people stood in his way. And yet—"

He stopped short, leaving the sentence uncompleted, while he knelt by the body and stared at it moodily.

To Be Continued Tomorrow.

Synopsis

Lola Carewe and her guest, Christine Quires, are mysteriously murdered in the former's apartment. Scorpions were the instruments of death. The police suspect Guy Everett, the last person to see Christine alive. Lola had blackmailed Everett. He however, claims that Christine discovered a plot to kill Lola and feared for her own life because of her knowledge. Police Commissioner Thatcher Colt learns that a young Paris bank clerk named Basil Boucher, loved Lola. After robbing a bank to buy her a ruby, Basil disappeared. His parents sold medical laboratory specimens. Edward Quires, Christine's brother, left his Rochester home for New York following the receipt of a telegram the day of the murders. Christine was to have inherited wealth shortly. Suspicion also points to Dr. Hugh Baldwin when it is disclosed that he purchased scorpions. He had stated heart failure caused the deaths. Colt, calling to question Baldwin, finds him dead—from a scorpion bite. Colt wonders if Baldwin was the victim of a trick or deliberately released the scorpion. In Baldwin's desk Colt finds a statement in which the doctor says he accidentally poisoned Gaylord Gifford, Lola's husband. Lola's knowledge of this placed Baldwin in her power. She forced him to supply narcotics which she used to victimize her friends and later blackmail them. Then she ordered him to obtain a scorpion to commit a murder. Baldwin learned that Vincent Rowland was behind Lola's activities.

Heart of a Wife

By ADELE GARRISON

Madge Is Greeted by a Frigid Atmosphere

The question as to how Dicky and Philip Veritzen were getting on together in the library was solved for me as soon as I entered the room. They were not getting on at all. They always have been antagonistic to each other, and the mutual dislike I knew had not been lessened by the events of that scene of the last Christmas Eve which had marked, though he did not know it at the time, the end of Mr. Veritzen's romantic feeling for me and the embarrassing attention he had pressed upon me during the time of my work with him.

I knew that Dicky would never forget the hell of jealous anger which possessed him for a few seconds upon that night until Mr. Veritzen's sharp command: "Look to your wife, man!" had shown him that I was a woman swooning from illness and not clasped voluntarily in my employer's loving embrace.

Nor would Philip Veritzen on his part, ever forget the rebuff I had given him on that night—one which he had fatuously refused to see coming, and of which he knew Dicky was cognizant. With those memories between the two men I was not surprised to see them standing as stiffly as if they were Cold Stream Guards under a royal inspection.

DICKY IS ANNOYED

There was but one thing to be done, of course, and that was to take over the scene myself and dominate it. So as I advanced into the room, I held out my hand to Mr. Veritzen, then smiled over his shoulder at my husband.

"Thank you so much, Dicky," I said, "for making my peace with Mr. Veritzen. At least," I turned my back to the great producer with a deprecating smile, "I hope you're appeased."

I had said the wrong thing as far as Dicky was concerned. I knew that by the tightening of his lips and the deepening of the angry look in his eyes. But Mr. Veritzen was as pleased as Dicky was angry, and when he answered me I realized what it was in my speech that had annoyed my husband.

"My dear child," Mr. Veritzen said, and I wondered if it were with malice aforethought that he made his tone anything but a paternal one, "why do you paint me as such an ogre? Appeased!" His voice took on an appealing note, and he raised the hand he still held to his lips with an exaggeration of the gesture which he always uses in greeting his feminine friends. I surmised that he purposely had enjoyed this impressive romanticism in order to annoy Dicky, and knew that his flair for being annoyed had been increased by my unlucky use of the word "appeased." Like any man, Dicky objected to my putting myself, even humorously, in the position of having to appease or curry favor with any man, save himself.

HUSBAND LEAVES

But it was too late now. The word had been uttered, and Mr. Veritzen appeared determined to build a theme song around it.

"Appeased," he repeated. "That sounds as if I were some brazen god into whose maw sacrifices had to be thrown."

"I'm not sure but you are," I told him, with a light little laugh which cost me something, with Dicky watching me intently, as I knew he was. "At least I've been diligently preparing the food for the maw."

Mr. Veritzen laughed easily. "I suppose that is the food," he said, indicating a bundle of manuscript which I had put upon the table near the door when I entered the room.

"Yes, that is it," I said, pulling my hand away from his and turning toward the table. But Dicky, with his unfailing courtesy, was before me.

"Permit me," he said, picking up the manuscript, handing it to Mr. Veritzen, and answering with a curt nod the great producer's effusive "Thank you."

"If you will both excuse me," Dicky said stiffly then, "I will leave you to the discussion of this. There are some things which imperatively demand my attention."

Then we must not keep you," Mr. Veritzen said, and there was in his tone a suspicion of condescension which I knew, by the effect it had upon my own sensibilities, must have made Dicky see red. But he only nodded, flashed a smile at me, which I guessed was for Mr. Veritzen's benefit rather than mine, and left the room.

"Tell me," Mr. Veritzen said, with a confidential air, looking after him, "am I wrong in supposing that your husband is very much annoyed at me?"

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS JUNIOR KOMIC CLUB

More than 4,000 boys and girls members of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club attended the big show yesterday at the Stanley Theater as the guests of the Sun-Telegraph and Warner Brothers Theaters.

The feature picture "County Fair" brought howls of laughter right from the start. Opening on one of the many touches of uproarious comedy that enhance the plot, "County Fair" launches immediately into that whirlwind action for which William Collier, Jr., has become famous. The young romantic lead of this fairground epic engages in no less than six thrilling hand-to-hand combats in the course of the story.

Nor is the role of Hobart Bosworth a bit backward in presenting to that distinguished gentleman a chance to reach the highest pinnacle of his brilliant career. Marion Shilling as the youthful leading lady is superb. Ralph Ince is even better than he was in "The Law of the Sea." Kit Guard and Snowflake inject much of the humor into the fast moving plot. Snowflake is the colored comic who distinguished himself in "Police Court."

All in all, boys and girls, it was a great show and over 4,000 youngsters started homeward at 5 p. m. after a Sunday afternoon of thrills and laughter.

The members of the Harris (downtown) chapter of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club held an impromptu farewell party Saturday for William C. Pearce, after which they were instructed to report to the Davis Theater next Saturday. The Harris closed for the summer last Saturday and the Komic Club will during the summer meet every Saturday morning at the Davis Theater, where next Saturday the youngsters will be greeted by J. A. McDonald, new manager of the Davis Theater. Mr. McDonald formerly managed the Memorial Theater (McKeesport), where he was successful in the running of the Memorial (McKeesport) chapter of the Komic Club.

If you are not a member of the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club, send your name and address, name of your parents, date and year of your birth, school you attend to the Secretary, Junior Komic Club, Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa., and a membership card and button will be mailed you. Or you can join at any of the Warner theaters where the Komic Club holds its regular Saturday morning meetings.

Davis—Bella Goldstein, Jean Taylor, Dave Kramer, Irene Galtor, Ben Kramer, Genevieve Kasir.

Exactly at 9:30 a. m. today Congressman Frisby will press a button that will ring a bell that will open a door that will start his great nation-wide house-to-house canvass to determine whether or not the American people want him to organize a nudist colony. Mr. Frisby's statement of the hopes and fears follows:

"America I love you. If I am to start a nudist colony it will be because you demand it. If the American people do not want a nudist colony I will organize it in a modest way, and then fight the proposition. I will leave nothing undone to expose the whole dangerous program which threatens our institutions.

Kline Should Resign

Consistency Demands That the Mayor, Found Guilty of Malfeasance, Give Up His Office

Found guilty of malfeasance, Mayor Charles H. Kline is liable to removal from office as well as to fine and imprisonment.

Without waiting for the sentence of the court Mayor Kline should resign. Consideration for the people of Pittsburgh demands it. Consistency demands it.

He removed Bertram L. Succop from office for "visible irregularities" in Succop's management of the office of Director of Supplies. The verdict of guilty returned against Succop by the same jury which convicted Kline vindicated the Mayor's good judgment in discharging him.

It was unpleasant for Pittsburgh to have as Mayor a man under indictment, and it will be doubly unpleasant to have as our chief magistrate a convicted man. Kline owes it to Pittsburgh, which has done many things for him, to relieve the city of this embarrassment.

The fact is that, whether or not his conviction is sustained on appeal to the higher courts, he has been proved unfit for his office.

Charles H. Kline is not a felon, not a man to be shunned as criminally tainted, but he has been inexcusably careless, to say the least, in the conduct of his office. He has neglected his duty and failed to show a proper conception of his responsibilities.

The Mayor has a pleasant personality—virtually everybody who has ever been closely associated with him likes him. But that does not alter the fact that he is not the right sort of man for Mayor.

He has admirable qualities, and some good deeds to his credit. But he has made a sorry mess of his mayoralty job, and should quit.

The jury recommended leniency, a recommendation which probably will meet the approval of most Pittsburghers. But the Mayor should not continue in office.

Thanks are due John D. Houston, the wholesale grocer who brought the supplies scandal to light; to the Citizens' Committee, who investigated it, and to District Attorney Andrew T. Park and his assistants for faithful performance of a public duty. It was not a pleasant job to prosecute the Mayor, which makes it all the more creditable to them that they rendered the service so conscientiously.

Safety vs. Economy

Accident Prevention Activities Are Highly Important in View of Our Bad Automobile Record.

The Pittsburgh Motor Club has good grounds for its protest against the reported plan of the County Commissioners to do away with the Sign and Safety Division of the Department of Highways as an economy measure.

Allegheny County has a black record of automobile accidents. Last year 379 persons were killed and 6,151 injured on the streets and highways of the county, a greater number than in Philadelphia, notwithstanding that Philadelphia has 50,000 more machines.

Allegheny County's automobile accident record is so bad that auto insurance rates, which were reduced in many parts of the country at the beginning of the year, were raised in the Pittsburgh district.

The Motor Club suggests that our accident record might have been even worse if the county's Safety Division had not been functioning; for it praises its work in erecting warning signs on county highways and in the Liberty Tubes.

There is a great deal of work yet to be done to promote safety—a survey of roads where pedestrian sidewalks are needed, for example, and a study to determine where roads have dangerous curves or have been improperly banked.

This work should not be given up. The saving of human life cannot be neglected.

The Ban on Borrowing

The Need for Another Special Session Is Indicated by Gov. Pinchot's Comment.

Gov. Pinchot has written Senator Davis that the proposed $500,000,000 federal loan to the states for unemployment relief would not be of any benefit to Pennsylvania, because the state constitution prohibits the commonwealth from incurring any debt in excess of $1,000,000 except to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, or defend the state in war.

There is all the more reason, then, if no reliance is to be placed on relief from that quarter, why Gov. Pinchot should call another special session of the Legislature, that the commonwealth may take care of the unemployed through its own tax resources.

There is, however, another form of federal aid that would be of great benefit to Pennsylvania—a program of federal public works, to be financed with a $5,000,000,000 prosperity bond issue. The coal, steel and cement that Pennsylvania would furnish would in themselves furnish work for many thousands.

Training for Assessors

The inequality that is to be found in real estate assessments is a constant source of complaint, and it is gratifying to find the County Commissioners trying to do something to improve conditions.

The plan to establish a school for assessors, in which they will be given instruction in the things that make for fairness and sound judgment in appraising property for taxation purposes, is commendable.

The city assessors have enjoyed a better reputation than those employed by the county, but they, too, have made serious mistakes of judgment, and might also profit by instruction.

It is a pity that we have to have two sets of assessors, whose figures are not in harmony.

Tax assessment is a job that ought to be done scientifically. Politics and political considerations should play no part in the appointment of the assessors or in the making of assessments.

Is it too much to hope that the County Commissioners' school for assessors will bring much needed reform in this work which so vitally affects the pocketbooks of the people?

Who's "It" in Matrimony

The reason why a fifty-fifty marriage is as rare as a-Day-in-June, even in this era of economic equality, is because it's so hard to find a genuine fifty-fifty couple!

* * *

ONE member of the matrimonial firm is nearly always the "sturdy oak," while the other is the clinging—or at least the non-resisting—vine, just because God made them that way. And it isn't a matter of sex, or a matter of economics, but a matter of WILL-POWER.

It doesn't take a Sherlock Holmes, a clairvoyant or a psychoanalyst to discover who chooses the morning newspaper and the brand of cigarets for the household, who picked out the car, who decides what to have for dinner and who will decide where to go for the summer.

* * *

You can tell who holds the balance of power, just by the way in which a man honks the horn when he's waiting for his wife. Whether he blows it raucously at three-minute intervals or touches it apologetically at timid 20-minute intervals.

* * *

You know by the careful, solicitous way in which a man helps his wife across the street. Or by the masterful way in which he SHOVES her across.

You can tell by the prompt assured way in which a man accepts your invitation to dinner. Or by the way he glances surreptitiously at his wife, until he gets a wireless telling him what to do.

* * *

And you can tell by the way a man saunters in carelessly bringing an unannounced guest. Or by the way he cautiously sneaks out and calls up his wife privately to "feel her out."

* * *

And you can always tell by the way in which a man drives the car. Whether he heeds his wife's squeals and listens to her warnings and exhortations from the rear seat—or just goes right on at 60 miles an hour and "lets her rave."

* * *

But don't fancy that these unevenly matched couples aren't perfectly happy and delighted with each other. There is always ONE of a pair who LIKES to be bossed and thought for and have things decided for him or her—and one who likes to rule. And as long as God and Nature continue to mate human beings without matching them, the fifty-fifty marriage will be only a sweet chimera! A charming phantasy of the Idealists.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, May 16.—Diary of a modern Pepys: Early up and a note from Gertrude Atherton she is not the furiously vital lady recently chronicled here but rather the laziest in the world. But had I written as many books and been so many places I would think myself a human dynamo.

So with my wife in a charabanc to the Claremont for a waffle breakfast and walked along Riverside drive gazing beyond the parapet. And a man hailed from a bus top "Hi there, Gallipolis!" Thence to my typewriter and later to sit awhile with the limner, George McManus.

To dinner with the William Seamans and the Orson Munns, George Gershwin, the Paul Whitemans, the Rube Goldbergs and Harold Ross there. And afterward Gershwin played a folio of tunes, the willingest genius I know. Afterward all fell to a number game save Seaman and I who made records of radio broadcasts.

Over the telephone just now a soft feminine voice inquires why Indians are never bald. I am too concerned with my own receding hair line at the moment to do any research work in her behalf. Anyway her interruption diverted me from an idea for a paragraph I thought was a dandy. It's gone now.

* * *

A feverish period of city editing a Middlewest newspaper in a circle of constantly ringing telephones has given me a distaste for the telephone that is a mania. I resort to every subterfuge to avoid it, and when I do answer, this sort of thing invariably happens.

* * *

O, yes, the elusive paragraph concerned a comedy knockabout duo billed as Mitchell and Durant. They smack each other around in a whirlwind of falls that shakes the rafters and heaps them perspiring and prostrate at the climax. After a shower and a rubdown, which leaves each five pounds lighter, they frequently visit a gymnasium to play handball. And in reading this over it occurs to me the telephone didn't interrupt a thing.

The $100,000 outfittings of another co-operative apartment are offered at $12,000 cash.

Crooners, matinee idols and current run-of-the mine Romeos took a back seat for the newest pulse pumper—John Weissmuller, heretofore he decorated beaches in aquatic antics at snootier spas. As a swimming champion his admirers were limited, but stardom in a movie resulted in the spontaneous flowering of another Great Lover. His personal appearance in a skimpy leopard skin brought sighing ladies to front pews and mash notes daily that would trip a whippet. Weissmuller is husband to perky Bobbe—not Bobbie—Arnst, a nimble-toed lady who floated like a puff ball in and out of revues and night clubs and is somewhat of a charmer herself, should anyone pull up to inquire.

* * *

As a pronounced pessimist I never behold the Romeos without thinking of the rocks ahead. There is the quick descent of John Gilbert. And, in dreamy fugue, Vallee, Crosby and Columbo, now in the corona of eclipse. The list is endless.

I hasten to add such misgivings are without rancor. The columnar clan has never developed a Lancelot. From the massive Heywood Broun to the flyweight Louis Sobol there isn't anything mildly suggesting a heart-wrecker. Other guilds more or less in the public eye have their Big Moments. Columnists do not rate split seconds.

LISTEN, WORLD -:-

By Elsie Robinson

He's 48; a moderately successful business man; owns a comfortably eight-room house in the city; one maid, washing done out; has a pretty, amiable wife and two youngsters, a boy of 20 and a girl of 18.

The boy's in college studying for law, making the usual record, shaping up slowly into a regular performance. The boy isn't worrying Dad. It's the girl—

Lately she has come back into the picture again, not altogether pleasantly. She has been requiring what seems to him to be an unreasonable amount of money; coming home at troubling hours; filling the house with queer people. The other day, when he remonstrated, there was a scene. It jolted the father. He began to take stock of her; discovered many surprising things.

Discovered, first, that he'd lost his baby. Instead, here was this pretty, pert, amazingly sophisticated young lady, leading a life of her own under his roof—a life that seemed a million years removed from his early training or personal notions of proper feminine conduct.

Her dresses, for instance. Seemed, as if she was always buying dresses. He tried to remember what his mother and sister had worn. There'd been a dressmaker at the house a couple of times a year, hadn't there? And he'd heard about "making over" things. Mother and sister took up their work baskets after supper as regularly as dad took up his paper.

He'd never seen a needle in his daughter's hand, but every week there were bills—bills for hats, stockings, gowns, coats.

And some of the things she bought seemed to him shameless. A girl of 18 with nothing across her back but a couple of soangled straps?

And the kind of people she was running around with—they matched the dresses. Coming in and going out at all hours with a bunch of rowdies, smelling of liquor! Indignantly he asked his wife what she meant by letting the girl carry on this way?

Smiling, she assured him that Alice wasn't carrying on. All the girls acted like that nowadays; dressed like that. They weren't young rowdies, either. They were really nice young people. Yes, perhaps they did drink a little; and the girls did smoke; but young people did those things nowadays. As for sewing, no one did it any more.

Then what did the girl do? That, after all, was the main point. He didn't mind spending money on her; was even willing to put up with a lot of the things he didn't understand. BUT—WHAT DID SHE DO?

Why, not anything in particular, his wife said with a rather condescending smile. Alice hadn't wanted to go to college. Didn't he remember she'd never cared for books? And thank heaven, there wasn't any necessity for her working, so she was just staying around home.

He didn't answer. He was thinking. What had he expected? A girl like his own sister? A wife like his own mother? But what sort of a wife would this spoiled, extravagant, undisciplined girl make? How much would she save and sacrifice for a home—she, whose every whim was gratified?

WHAT WAS SHE WORTH, AS A HUMAN BEING—THIS DAUGHTER OF HIS?

WAS SHE ACTUALLY ANYTHING BUT A TRAMP?

WEREN'T ALL THESE PAMPERED MODERN DAUGHTERS, WITH THEIR RESTLESSNESS, THEIR LAWLESSNESS AND LACK OF VALUES, AS MUCH A MENACE TO SOCIETY AS ANY STREET LOAFER?

Aghast, he asked himself those questions—and hasn't answered them yet.

What is YOUR answer?

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

Ida Tarbell has written a biography of Owen D. Young, which will probably appear before the convention. We now have biographies of Roosevelt, Garner, Baker and Smith. All of these have been written because of candidacies, announced or understood, for the Presidency, and the appearance of a Young biography at this juncture is open to the same interpretation.

And just at this time Mr. Young makes an address at a college in New York in which he takes cognizance of the farmers' plight and suggests the possible wisdom of an equalization fee, and says that "only by a just and equitable distribution of the fruits of labor to all our citizenry can we hope to build an economic structure that will stand the test of time." This sounds like a candidacy. But before it advances far it will be necessary to have a much fuller exposition of Mr. Young's views on other public questions.

But we can heartily commend Mr. Young's position in favor of a prosperity loan. When Mr. Hearst first proposed such a loan there was a disposition among the statesmen and "journals of conservative thought" to treat it with a supercilious condescension; it now appears that Mr. Hearst was thinking about 12 months ahead of the rest. The great tragedy in the present crisis is that so many of our "leaders" have been thinking about 12 months behind.

* * *

Mr. Hoover Remains In Opposition

Meanwhile, with conditions in employment growing worse, with provisions for the prevention of the starvation of the people falling more and more behind the needs, and with the demand increasing for a prosperity loan to furnish work, Mr. Hoover remains in opposition. It has annoyed the administration that any one should insist that it take cognizance of this human equation. But with the increasing pressure it is now proposed, apparently with the President's approval, that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation be permitted to make loans to states and cities for unemployment relief.

When the measure creating this Corporation was pending, the City of New York asked that a provision be written in permitting this very thing and the administration was against it.

But this new plan is pitifully inadequate. Only two billion dollars were appropriated for all its work; and it has loaned vast sums to banks, corporations and railroads. The amount available for loans to cities and states would be ridiculously small.

If the administration has concluded that there is no impropriety in loaning Federal money to other governmental units to permit them to furnish jobs, there is no impropriety in the Federal government using Federal money for Federal jobs—on a scale in keeping with the magnitude of the crisis.

* * *

Means More Peril To Business

Meanwhile as the administration dilly-dallied with the notion that it can ignore this great human problem involving directly and indirectly as many as 30,000,000 people, the army of the unemployed has constantly lengthened.

At this season when one might naturally hope for an improvement in employment conditions, there is enough to startle even the administration out of its smug complacency in the fact that employment is on the decrease even now.

That means more human misery among the unemployed and their dependents; but it means something else that perhaps this administration can better understand—it means more peril to business. The merchants everywhere are fighting against failure with their backs to the wall, and every accession to the ranks of the unemployed means just that much loss in the purchasing power of the people. It advances the merchant a step further toward the abyss of bankruptcy.

Not only the unemployed, but the merchants waiting for customers and the manufacturer waiting for orders have a vital interest in having something done to restore purchasing power to an enormous number of men who no longer have it.

* * *

Welcome All Converts To the Cause

And there is another reason, increasing in importance, to which Mr. Young is reported to have referred in discussing the situation with members of Congress. He is said to have "pictured to Democratic leaders a gloomy outlook for next winter and declared that wise statesmanship demanded a bond issue to care for the unemployed." That is what we have been saying in this column for more than a year, and we welcome all converts to the cause.

Another winter of such human misery as the unemployed have known since the beginning of the Hoover administration, increased in suffering and in the number of victims, will mean trouble. These millions, defied their inalienable right to work and live, have shown admirable restraint thus far, but there is a limit to human patience under suffering and humiliation.

And it will not dare veto a prosperity loan put up to it by the Congress which, fortunately for the country, is in session.

The duty of Congress is plain; and the duty of the Democrats in Congress is to get behind the Wagner bill or the La Follette bill or any bill that provides for a prosperity loan which will furnish jobs to millions, restore their purchasing power, and bring relief to merchants.

Mr. Hoover Spends Dimes With Mr. Rockefeller

There was nothing of impropriety in these meetings. The discussion may have turned on ways and means of getting "Four More Years of Hoover," or upon methods for helping big business in the crisis that effects it too.

But at the dining table of none of his cabinet has the President yet met Mr. Green, the head of the American Federation of Labor, where a discussion of the state of unemployment and on ways and means to get some of these 8,000,000 breadwinners back to work would not be improper either.

A Crime Against Society

If anything is to be done to prevent intense suffering among millions of Americans next winter it must be done before the expiration of the present session of Congress. The next session does not convene until in December, and it then will be too late to accomplish anything that would be effective during the winter. It is evident that the President will do nothing for the unemployed to which he is not forced, and a prosperity loan is out of the question without an act of Congress.

Just now hearings are being held upon the prosperity loan plan; the bills are pending, and to adjourn without voting upon them would be a crime against society. It would destroy the confidence of millions of those dispossessed of jobs in the dependability of their government, where their vital interests are concerned. And that is something we cannot afford these days.

Isn't It So?

It is the people who come early to avoid the crowd that make the crowd.
